SUBJECT: COUNTER-INTELLIGENCE PROGRAM

Re Charlotte letter to Director, 9/29/70.

1. POTENTIAL COUNTER-INTELLIGENCE ACTION

The Charlotte Office is continuously scrutinizing the subjects of new left investigation regarding school financial aid and employment with the end in view of having such aid and employment terminated.

2. PENDING COUNTER-INTELLIGENCE ACTION

There is no pending counter-intelligence action at the present time.

3. TANGIBLE RESULTS

As stated in referenced letter, [REDACTED] SI subject in Charlotte Office, was detained by INS at New York, on basis of information disseminated by Charlotte Office to INS. The 9/24/70 edition of the Chronicle, student newspaper at Duke University, Durham, N. C., published an editorial captioned "Free [REDACTED]." The editorial states that [REDACTED] was on his way back to Duke to take his Ph.D. oral examinations when he was detained by INS 11 days previously, and that the Government is trying very hard to get him out of the country. It states [REDACTED] is a victim of the same tactics the government is using all across the nation to muzzle political dissent.

Also, on 10/23/70, [REDACTED] advised that at an SDS meeting at Duke that date, it was announced that [REDACTED] was back at Duke but that he was "keeping pretty quiet or else he will be thrown out of the country."

The National Convention of the Worker Student Alliance - Students for a Democratic Society (WSA/SDS), which was held on 12/27-30/70 in Chicago, was firmly controlled by the Progressive Labor Party (PLP). The anti-PLP factions were unable to muster any substantial support to change the nature of the WSA/SDS. In view of PLP domination of the organization, there are counterintelligence opportunities available to discredit PLP control of the organization.

Offices in receipt of this communication should promptly contact their informants who attended this convention and obtain details that would make suitable counterintelligence information available against the PLP. You should obtain information concerning the expenditures of funds for travel and lodging, immoral or unusual activities by convention participants and the method of PLP control over factions at this gathering. It has been estimated that the cost of the convention totaled about $27,000 and your sources should furnish available information concerning WSA/SDS individuals handling funds and methods of disbursing them. In submitting results of your contacts include your observations concerning counterintelligence steps against the above organizations. Submit results within two weeks of receipt of this communication. It is anticipated that if suitable

NOTE:

Offices receiving copies of this communication each had informants at the WSA/SDS convention. The offices are being requested to submit information from informants who attended the gathering with their observations concerning counterintelligence steps against the PLP and the WSA/SDS. It is believed that in the event suitable material is submitted by the field, an effective counterintelligence step may be taken against these organizations. SUBJECT: COINTELPRO - NEW LEFT

Re Bureau letter to Albany dated 5/10/68 and Omaha letter to Bureau dated 10/7/70.

The only chapter of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) in the Omaha Division is located at the University of Iowa, Iowa City.

There has been no violent demonstrations attributed by this group since school opened in September, 1970. This group of approximately 25-30 members have caused two small peaceful demonstrations; one at the appearance of the Vice-President at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and another Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) recruiter on campus.

Considerable SDS literature has been obtained from Boston and is being distributed in Iowa.

Omaha has [redacted] and [redacted] furnishing excellent information concerning this [redacted] and Omaha is constantly alert for information that can be utilized for counterintelligence purposes.

MISCELLANEOUS

One incident worthy of mention in this communication, happened in November, 1970, when several Central High School students in Davenport, Iowa, apparently obtained some literature on the SDS. It is believed, but not definitely verified, that this literature may have originated from Iowa City. Approximately 4 or 5 Central High School students proposed the organizing of an SDS chapter at Central High School, and approached the [redacted] to obtain permission in this regard. [redacted] who was strongly against recognizing this group, approached the FBI and requested some information he might use to influence the faculty to vote against permission for this group to organize at Central High.

[redacted] had already obtained from another source, a pamphlet containing the results of the Senate Judiciary Committee hearings on the SDS. [redacted] was furnished the following literature which had been furnished by the Bureau:

- 1) Modern Day
ATTILAS or SDS in Action
- 2) A Study in Marxist Revolutionary Violence:
Students for a Democratic Society 1962-1969
- 3) The SDS and the High Schools
- 4) An Open Letter to College Students dated 9/21/70

It is not known exactly what [redacted] did with the literature, however, it is known that on November 12th, the Central High School faculty voted 41-10 against permitting a chapter of the SDS to be formed at Davenport, Iowa, High School, and [redacted] expressed his deepest appreciation to the FBI for furnishing him the information. This situation in Davenport is still being closely followed, however, it is believed this attempt to establish a group at Central High School has been aborted.

ReHOairtel, 10/1/70.

I. Potential Counterintelligence Action

Efforts to determine details regarding income tax submissions of [REDACTED] through appropriate contacts at Internal Revenue Service (IRS), Houston, Texas, have been unproductive to date. This matter will continue to be explored for possible counterintelligence action.

As a result of an appearance by Governor PRESTON SMITH at the University of Houston on 10/7/70 and his treatment at the hands of several students, considerable controversy at the University of Houston and much publicity has developed. [REDACTED] Houston, Texas, has indicated that the Governor expressed a desire to have the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) banned from the University of Houston. Positive results concerning this activity, however, have not been realized to date. This matter is being followed closely.

II. Pending Counterintelligence Action

Other than the efforts to eliminate YSA from the University of Houston as a legitimate student organization and the activities directed against [REDACTED] no specific counterintelligence action currently pending in the Houston Division.

Organized April, 1970. Approximately 5 members. Unable to gain foothold due to student apathy. Only activity consisted of sponsoring anti-war film, spring, 1970, and picketing on-campus military recruiters.

MM 105-15956

II. KEY ACTIVISTS

None.

III. POTENTIAL COINTEL ACTION

The organizations above, since commencement of the Fall, 1970, term, have either not reorganized or are experiencing difficulty in forming active organizations due mainly to the apathy of the general student body.

Miami will be alert for any stepped-up actions by these organizations and others that might emerge and will, at every opportunity, seek ways of causing disruption in their ranks.

IV. PENDING COINTEL ACTION

A. The YWLL, because of their Bohemian life style and their drug culture orientation, have isolated themselves from the local established CP. This has resulted in the CP's denying them funds for their activities. Local CP informants have been advised to maintain this devious atmosphere and to exert their influence in order to minimize the YWLL activities.

B. [REDACTED] a University of Miami student, was a suspect in the firebombing of an Army vehicle during the last school term. Miami is intensifying its investigation on this subject. Information has been developed that during the summer months, [REDACTED] was arrested by the Pennsylvania State Police and charged with violation of that state's Dangerous Drugs and Cosmetics Act. The Pittsburgh Office has been requested to determine if charges are outstanding and if UFAP can be obtained. [REDACTED] is presently enrolled as a student at the University of Miami.

MM 105-15956

V. TANGIBLE RESULTS

In the referenced communication, it was mentioned that the identity of all editors of official campus publications, i.e., newspapers, within the Miami Division was being obtained. The SAC then directed a personal letter to each, enclosing a copy of the Director's "An Open Letter To College Students." A typical result of this was the reprint in total of the Director's letter in the October 6, 1970 issue of the "Atlantic Sun," a student publication at Florida Atlantic University, Boca Raton, Florida.

Re Columbia letter to Bureau, 9/25/70.

For the information of the Bureau, the AWARE Organization, a student group at the University of South Carolina (USC), Columbia, S. C., which is affiliated with Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), was suspended during the summer months by USC Administrative officials and in October 1970 their charter was lifted and they are no longer a student group at USC, nor are they holding meetings at any other locations in Columbia, S. C.)

The UFO Club, which was closed by court order in January 1970, remains closed and there are no plans at the present to start a new club or attempt to open the old UFO Club. The conviction in State Court of the UFO Club and its employees is being appealed in U. S. Court of Appeals at Richmond, Virginia; however, it will be several months before the results of the appeal are known.

The owner of the UFO Club building is serving eviction papers on the operators of the club and upon completion of the court action they will be forced to move from this building. The Student Mobilization Committee, a local student group at USC, not affiliated with the National SMC, has been ineffective during the current semester, holding two meetings and one rally at the University.

City License Division and will attempt to stop any efforts on the part of the UFO Club or other dissidents to open a new club in the downtown area of Columbia, S. C.

On 12/4/70, [REDACTED],
USC, advised that several conservative students had contacted him, indicating they were starting a new organization known as Radical Students for Capitalism, with the main purpose of disrupting the Student Mobilization Committee (SMC) groups at USC and make the organization ineffective in holding rallies and other activities during the current school year. [REDACTED] stated that at one meeting the conservatives had completely disrupted the meeting through questions and giving views, when the President of SMC closed the meeting after only 20 minutes. ✓

Informants and sources have stated that there is very little activity on the part of the New Left in the Columbia, S. C., area and due to the poor attendance at the meetings they have held, they are of the opinion that the New Left will have very little support at USC.

II. PENDING COUNTERINTELLIGENCE ACTION

Informant of the Columbia Division has advised that [REDACTED], SI subject, has indicated he is afraid to get involved with dissident-type students, as the term of bond in local court indicates that he will be placed in jail and bond revoked, if he takes part in New Left activities. Informant has also indicated that the majority of the SMC group is paranoid concerning the police informants and suspects everyone at USC of being an informant. Informant stated that he believes this attitude has kept the majority of students from becoming involved in dissident activities.

Contacts with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Columbia, S. C., advised that he believes that the numerous drug raids and arrests which involved some of the dissidents or sympathizers at USC have given bad publicity to the dissidents and the majority of the students at USC do not want to become involved, for fear of being arrested in drug raids.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

The SMC group at USC continues to be ineffective in organizing the students, and according to informants and sources, they are of the opinion that the FBI and local authorities have numerous informants in the dissident groups and for this reason are afraid to take any action which would possibly result in their arrest. Informant also advised that the President of the SMC does not have the ability to be a leader but refuses to turn over the leadership to any other member of SMC. Sources stated that they are of the opinion that SMC will be ineffective as long as the present leadership is in control.

As previously stated, the numerous arrests made by local authorities during the student disturbances in May of 1970 and the subsequent suspension of those arrested have eliminated the majority of dissident troublemakers from the campus. This has made all efforts to organize a new group at USC very difficult.

The University has also adopted a new policy of being very strict on student groups and advised them of any disruption of the normal school activities will result in their permanent suspension from USC. This also has stopped some of the students from becoming involved in dissident activities.

OBSERVATIONS:

[REDACTED]

However, to enlarge upon this obvious personality conflict, our New York Office has prepared a leaflet, which is attached, in the jargon of the New Left which necessitates the use of obscenities to make the document authentic. The leaflet implies that Hoffman is using Rubin, Yippies and the "Street People" for his own personal gain. 4

This leaflet, mailed to a select few New Left activists and publishers of New Left publications, will unquestionably widen the personality gap between these two individuals and will tend to fragmentize the organization and hopefully lead to its complete disintegration. Therefore, an airtel is attached for the SAC, New York, approving its recommendation. The mailing of this leaflet will not compromise the FBI. 6

IV. Miscellaneous

The off-campus SDS group in Sacramento is the only organization in the Sacramento Division currently active in the New Left. [REDACTED] appears to be a completely trusted member of this organization. Plans were being made during August, 1970, to be submitted to the Bureau for approval, to cause dissention and disrupt the activities of the group without jeopardizing the position of the source. At the end of August, 12 members of the group attended the People's Army Jamboree in Portland, Oregon, where they engaged in minor acts of vandalism and harassment. Upon their return, they were subject to considerable criticism by members who did not attend and do not agree with "street activity". As a result, the group is now split with factionalism, have currently ceased all group activity, and do not appear to be making plans to reorganize. This matter will be followed closely. If and when it is evident that the group has been solidified, plans will be made to attempt to disrupt their activity.

BPP leaders have indicated their annoyance and upset st [REDACTED] who mishandled s New York City press conference upon the group's return to the publicity-wise detriment of BPP. San Francisco and Los Angeles were requested to submit proposals under captioned program to capitalize on this upset. Bureau has already approved a suggestion by San Francisco concerning a note to BPP leader Huey Newton complaining of oversight of BPP in relation to described delegation. San Francisco is origin in Newton and national Black Panther Party csse. ReNOairtel reflected that the entire membership of the Additional agitation on informant's part at this time could completely alienate him from the NH in SDS. Needless to say, this result would be undesirable. On the other hand, those in SDS opposed to the policies of the NH in Boston are extremely serious in their efforts, factionalism in the organization continues to mount, and it appears possible that a split in SDS could occur in the near future.

Pending additional developments within the organization, New Orleans recommends that no change be made at this time relative to the utilization of [REDACTED] in the NIC of SDS.

Cleaver, of course, did not return to this country. BPP leaders have indicated their annoyance as [REDACTED] was more or less the "star" of a New York City press conference upon the group's return. San Francisco suggested that an anonymous letter postmarked in New York City be sent BPP leader Huey P. Newton complaining of the press coverage received by [REDACTED]. Re Bureau letter, 10/15/70.

The proposal of Cleveland to submit an ad. to an underground newspaper using a code name previously utilized by Weathermen as a cover name, has a possibility of success, however, the following is noted.

The information concerning the code name is at least six months old, and since that time the Weatherman Underground has had the opportunity to establish its communication network.

It is not believed that the fugitives would continue to use, or be likely to respond to a message using a code established prior to the time they went underground, as this might be known to police.

Further, Chicago does not feel that such action should originate from Chicago, as there is already a probable communication center in Chicago in the Peoples Law Offices (PLO). A person desiring to contact the underground would logically do so there (PLO) where they would establish his identity prior to any communication.

It is further considered unlikely that any of the fugitives would directly contact the mail drop, but this would be done through a third party, possibly PLO, or an individual in a distant city.

In previous communications from the underground there has been some indication that letters have been remailed in a city other than where they were written.

The expense and manpower requirements required for such an operation would be minimal, what Chicago considers a remote possibility of success may be justified. However, with PLO being located in Chicago and several Weathermen appearing for court in Chicago, this form of contact does not appear to be an appropriate method for a Weatherman in Chicago to make contact with the Underground.

It should be noted that newspaper targeted for Portland's proposal is the "Willamette Bridge," a weekly underground newspaper printed and circulated in the Portland area. The proposed letter was written with the express purpose of being printed in the "Willamette Bridge" in order to gain the widest and most appropriate circulation of the "revealing" information it contained. The language used in the letter was carefully chosen in order to achieve this result. The "Willamette Bridge" has printed letters worded in very similar language in the past, and with this in mind, Portland is resubmitting proposed letter again for consideration of the Bureau.

Re BS airtel to Bureau, 10/16/70.

After commenting on the existing factionalism within SDS/WSA, the Boston Division, on page 5 of referenced communication, requests the Bureau to "authorize recipient Offices to encourage their sources...to agitate in their respective SDS/WSA groups with a view toward confronting the NH on the above issues during the national demonstrations for the purpose of permitting factionalism within SDS/WSA and thereby weakening its current unsteady posture."

Regarding the above, New Orleans suggests that the above recommendation be modified to include only those informants in SDS/WSA chapters where a substantial number of members in the chapter are expressing opposition to the NH and its policies. Even more than possibly causing suspicion as to the informant's relationship with a law enforcement agency, such agitation, it is felt, will alienate the informant relative to the NH and its supporters. Any close ties developed with the NH will be endangered.

Bureau concurs with Boston suggestion that the meetings and demonstrations at Detroit and San Jose would be an ideal time to take advantage of the factionalism currently so prevalent in Students for a Democratic Society/Worker Student Alliance (SDS/WSA). Only those sources who are rank-and-file members of SDS/WSA should participate in promoting the factionalism and demonstrate disagreement with national headquarters concerning current policies.

UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES SHOULD ANY INFORMANT ENGAGE IN ANY ACTIVITY OR MAKE ANY STATEMENTS WHICH WOULD JEOPARDIZE HIS CONFIDENTIAL RELATIONSHIP WITH THE BUREAU OR AFFECT HIS FUTURE USE AS A SOURCE.

New Orleans should submit specific comments concerning any suggestions for the utilization of [REDACTED] in this counterintelligence operation in view of his position as [REDACTED]

All offices submit replies to reach the Bureau no later than close of business 10/28/70.

NOTE:

Bureau suggested that Boston should consider exploitation of dissention in the SDS/WSA under COINTELPRO. SDS/WSA has called for national demonstrations at San Jose and Detroit on 11/3/70. There has been unusual dissention, particularly by chapters, at San Francisco, Chicago, and New Orleans against national headquarters, Boston. San Francisco and Chicago advocate far more militant tactics and are anti-Progressive Labor Party (PLP) influence. PLP predominates national headquarters. National headquarters continuously has avoided a national convention. Some members, as well as activity at recent regional conferences, indicate that national headquarters is afraid to hold national convention for fear of losing control. Proposal by Boston, as suggested by the Bureau believed to have merit under COINTELPRO and will cause considerable disunity and disruption among leaders and rank-and-file members. Action at San Jose and Detroit by member informants should spread throughout all chapters.

Detroit is proposing the disruption of the physical plant of the Radical Education Project (REP), 3908 Michigan Avenue, Detroit, Michigan. REP is a full time publishing outfit of the New Left through whose auspices numerous virulent revolutionary treatises reach the Left.

In addition, the Black Panther Party (BPP) in Detroit receives BPP publications from San Francisco. Detroit has easy access to these papers after they arrive in Detroit.

The Bureau is requested to prepare and furnish to Detroit in liquid form a solution capable of duplicating a scent of the most foul smelling feces available. In this case, it might be appropriate to duplicate the feces of the specie sus scrofa.

A quart supply, along with a dispenser capable of squirting a narrow stream for a distance of approximately three feet would satisfy the needs of this proposed technique.

Referenced Los Angeles LHM sets forth information from [REDACTED] concerning contact of [REDACTED] with Eldridge Cleaver. In describing her recent arrival in New York as member of delegation which had been traveling abroad with Cleaver in North Korea, China, and North Vietnam, [REDACTED] is extremely critical of manner in which [REDACTED] and member of delegation, had led the news conference in New York described in referenced New York LHM. She complained that the press referred to delegation as a "peace group" rather than an anti-imperialist delegation; that a tape recording prepared by Cleaver to be played at the press conference was overlooked and only a small portion played; that Huey Newton, BPP leader, who was present at the time, was disgruntled at [REDACTED] misdirection; and that the delegation as a whole was displeased with his conduct. The expected favorable BPP publicity did not materialize and even the organizing of the International Section of the BPP in Algeria was overlooked. Cleaver expressed his chagrin at [REDACTED] conduct and lack of contact with himself by delegation after conference.

The domination of [REDACTED] over BPP and other delegations; the virtual subjugation of the BPP to his direction; the minimizing of BPP as motivating force behind the purpose of the delegation; the resulting loss of favorable BPP publicity; the virtual snubbing and inability of Huey Newton to exercise any influence or direction; the ingratitude of [REDACTED] and delegation to Cleaver; the general mismanagement of a golden opportunity by [REDACTED] and the possible control of the entire delegation and BPP by a foreign nation, such as China, through puppet [REDACTED] suggests above situation ideal for application of hard-hitting counterintelligence effort to embarrass Panthers and members of this delegation as well as alienating same. Consistent with above, recipient offices are requested to submit recommendations concerning above for use under captioned program.

Referenced Los Angeles LHM also indicates Cleaver was not overjoyed with [REDACTED] adulatory report of Huey Newton's successful impact on Panthers. His jealous concern that he may become a lessening influence is suggested and appears exploitable in our continuing efforts to disrupt BPP leadership. Recipient offices are also requested to submit appropriate recommendations in this regard for use under captioned program.

On 10/7/70, Governor PRESTON SMITH, who was invited to speak at the University of Houston (UH), was subjected to boos and remarks by unruly individuals in the audience. Because of the disrespect shown the Governor, he departed the UH and did not deliver the speech which he had planned. Immediately thereafter, the [redacted] of the UH, directed a telegram to Governor SMITH apologizing for the treatment he received at the University. Subsequently, Governor SMITH was reported in the Houston newspapers as stating that if state officials, invited to speak at state supported colleges and universities are subjected to the rude and unruly actions of certain people connected with the university and if university officials cannot control this situation, the state would seek other methods to control it.

On 10/9/70, [redacted] advised that at a YSA meeting, the members were considerably upset as they were blamed for the actions taken by certain people against Governor SMITH on 10/7/70.

Further, on 10/9/70, [redacted], Houston, Texas, advised that the Governor was extremely upset with the treatment he received at the UH and has assigned six attorneys on his staff to look into the situation. [redacted] advised that he intends to present a proposal to the Governor in the immediate future to have YSA and other radical groups eliminated as recognized campus organizations. It is noted that YSA is a recognized organization at the UH and regularly uses university facilities for their meetings. It is noted that the Houston Division approximately one week ago, conferred with [REDACTED] and personnel of the Security Department of the UH in an effort to devise some method to eliminate the YSA as a recognized campus group. It was felt at that time that anything short of a directive from the Governor's Office would not be successful in eliminating YSA from UH.

Due to the development with Governor SMITH on 10/7/70, it is felt that the time is right to propose to the Governor through the DPS that YSA be eliminated and this matter is being closely followed by the Houston Office with DPS.

It is felt that if YSA is removed as a recognized organization from the UH, this will cause them great hardship and considerable money and be an effective method of controlling YSA whereas they are presently operating wide open with free and continual access to meeting rooms on the campus and the privilege of passing out their papers and literature among the students at the UH.

The Bureau will be kept advised as to the developments in this matter.

The Omaha Chapter of the SDS at the University of Iowa, Iowa City, is still in existence but has not been involved in any active demonstrations since early May 1970. WJ

In connection with this group and the radical students on this campus, it is noted that Omaha is presently in the process of developing what appears to be two good within-group sources so that more specific information will be developed concerning the possible plans or activities of the new left movement on this campus will be known in the future and Omaha will be alert to develop any counter intelligence programs as a result of information from these sources. Ma

At the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, Omaha has a good Bureau approved student source and it is hoped that if there is new left activity, some counter intelligence programs can be developed from this source. In connection with this campus, it is noted that Omaha rented a confidential Post Office box and had this source furnish a letter to Portland, Oregon, in connection with the People's Army Jamboree 8/28 to 9/3/70, however, no response was received by the Lincoln, Nebraska, source as a result of the letter furnished.

Since the schools in the Omaha Division opened in late September 1970, new left activities in this division have very quiet to date. Omaha will be alert to create disruptions through counter intelligence recommendations when opportunities are presented to do so.

BACKGROUND

Within every field division situations arise that lend themselves to a counterintelligence program providing the situation is afforded some publicity and is brought to the attention of the public.

As an example, [REDACTED] Communist Party, District of Oregon, was recently the recipient of a $3,500 cash grant from the Portland Model Cities Program. The money was for [REDACTED] to use in remodeling and restoring his residence which had fallen into disrepair, mainly because [REDACTED] had done nothing to maintain the property over the years. The funds utilized rose from Federal grants funding the Model Cities Program. As far as known this was the first such grant made in the Model Cities Program in Portland.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Several Bureau approved letters are directed to the Letter to the Editor Column of leading metropolitan newspapers. The letters would be sent about a week apart dealing with timely local topics in order to establish the writer as a contributor to the Letters to the Editor section.

Thereafter, a Bureau approved letter would be sent exposing to the public view a particular situation such as the one outlined above with regard to [REDACTED]

EXPECTED RESULTS

Portland is not proposing that this measure be directed toward [REDACTED] at the present time as this situation is known to several individuals who are expected to direct public attention in that direction. However, there would be a wide spectrum of events that would lend itself to such counterintelligence approach. For example, school administrators of tax supported universities who do nothing to stem the tide of campus violence spawned from within the campus community; city administrators who "cave in" to the demands of street protestors for parade permits at a time and location to cause the most congestion and public inconvenience; public facilities that are made available for the use of organizations planning disruptive activity; and Mafia-like tactics of the Black Panther Party in obtaining cash contributions from merchants, ostensibly to carry out Black Panther Party community programs.

When a specially prepared letter appears in the press copies of the letter could then be mailed to people in the state legislature, school boards, members of congress, or to areas where corrective measures would have to have a beginning.

Letters appearing in the newspapers would stimulate persons of opposite viewpoint to write directly to the contributor which could serve to identify persons who support dissent.

"CHARGE TO GRADUATES"

by

Eric A. Walker

President, The Pennsylvania State University University Park, Pennsylvania

Ladies and gentlemen of the graduating class and those who got advanced degrees. Let me extend to each of you my personal congratulations and those of the entire University on the degree you have earned today.

This ceremony marks the completion of an important phase of your life. It is an occasion in which all who know you can share in your sense of pride and accomplishment. But no one has more pride in your accomplishment than the older generation. But I am not going to tell that older generation how bright you are. Nor am I going to say we have made a mess of things and you - the younger ones - are the hope of mankind. I would like to reverse that process. For if you of the graduating class will look over into the bleachers to your left or right, I will reintroduce you to representatives of some of the most remarkable people ever to walk the earth. People you might want to thank on this graduation day. These are people you already know - your parents and grandparents. And, if you will bear with me for five minutes, I think you will agree that a remarkable people they are indeed. Let me tell you about them.

Not long ago an educator from Northwestern University by the name of Bergen Evans, a radio performer known to your parents, got together some facts about these two generations - your parents and grandparents. I'd like to share some of these facts with you.

These - your parents and grandparents - are the people who within just five decades - 1919 - 1969 - have by their work increased your life expectancy by approximately 50 percent - who while cutting the working day by a third, have more than doubled per capita output.

These are the people who have given you a healthier world than they found. And because of this you no longer have to fear epidemics of flu, typhus, diphtheria, smallpox, scarlet fever, measles or mumps that they knew in their youth. And the dreaded polio is no longer a medical factor, while TB is almost unheard of.

Let me remind you that these remarkable people lived through history's greatest depression. Many of these people know what it is to be poor, what it is to be hungry and cold. And because of this, they determined that it would not happen to you, that you would have a better life, you would have food to eat, milk to drink, vitamins to nourish you, a warm home, better schools and greater opportunities to succeed than they had.

Because they gave you the best, you are the tallest, healthiest, brightest, and probably best looking generation to inhabit the land.

And because they were materialistic, you will work fewer hours, learn more, have more leisure time, travel to more distant places, and have more of a chance to follow your life's ambition.

100-447678-978

There are also the people, the people who fought men's and first war. They are the people who started the typhoid of 1918, and when it was all over, had the conscience to send billions of dollars to help their former enemies rebuild their homelands. And there are the people who had the sense to begin the United Nations.

It was representatives of these two generations, who through the highest court of the land, fought racial discrimination at every turn to begin a new era in civil rights.

They built thousands of high schools, trained and hired tens of thousands of better teachers, and at the same time made higher education a very real possibility for millions of youngsters -- where once it was only the dream of a wealthy few.

And they made a start -- although a late one -- in healing the scars of the earth and in fighting pollution and the destruction of our natural environment. They set into motion new laws giving conservation new meaning, and setting aside land for you and your children to enjoy for generations to come.

They also held the dubious record for paying taxes -- although you will probably exceed them in this.

While they have done all these things, they have had some failures. They have not yet found an alternative for war, nor for racial hatred. Perhaps you, the members of this graduating class, will perfect the social mechanisms by which all men may follow their ambitions without the threat of force -- so that the earth will no longer need police to enforce the laws, nor armies to prevent some men from trespassing against others. But they -- these generations -- made more progress by the sweat of their brows than in any previous era, and don't forget it. And, if your generation can make as much progress in as many areas as these two generations have, you should be able to solve a good many of the world's remaining ills.

It is my hope, and I know the hope of these two generations, that you find the answers to many of these problems that plague mankind.

But it won't be easy. And you won't do it by negative thoughts, nor by tearing down or belittling. You may and can do it by hard work, humility, hope, and faith in mankind. Try it.

Cordily and good luck to all of you.

I. POTENTIAL COUNTERINTELLIGENCE ACTION

New Left activity within the Minneapolis Division has been at a minimum during the summer months. With the resumption of the school year and information that antiwar and resistance-type groups will try to reorganize, we will carefully follow to more accurately assess the potentials for action under this program. Information has also been received that the local SDS will be reorganized because of fear that the group is completely infiltrated by FBI informants; further, during the interview of a local SDS leader relative to local bombings, the Agents were advised that the local SDS chapter would "kick out" any Weatherman types who tried to join the organization. These trends will be closely followed for potential counterintelligence.

Potential Counterintelligence Action

Since the effective destruction of SDS as a mass campus based organization it appears their may be an exceptional opportunity for counter-intelligence action. With the start of the new college term various groups such as the Young Socialist Alliance and the Worker Student Alliance will be competing to assume the dominate role in the campus protest movement. Chicago is alert to any possible differences between these groups which can be exploited to embarrass these groups, or to set them against one another.

Pending Counterintelligence Activity

Chicago is continuing its vigorous fugitive investigation to locate and apprehend members of the Weatherman underground. During contacts during this investigation the dangerousness of these individuals is being pointed out. As a result there is much less tolerance for the violent tactics of Weathermen and a shadow has been cast on all radicals and dissidents in the Chicago area.

This investigation is continuing and every opportunity to discredit violent radical groups is being exploited.

Re Bulet to all Offices, 5/10/68, and Columbia letter to Bureau, 6/26/70.

For the information of the Bureau, the AWARE organization, a student group at the University of South Carolina (USC), Columbia, S.C., which is affiliated with Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), was suspended during the summer months by the USC Administrative officials due to their taking part in the disturbance during May, 1970, at USC, and their misuse of USC property.

It is also noted that the UFO Club, which is located at 1732 Main St., Columbia, S.C., an anti-war, anti-draft, and anti-establishment type coffeehouse restaurant, was closed on a local court order on 1/15/70. Subsequently, the operators of the UFO Club were found guilty of operating and maintaining a public nuisance and received six-year sentences which are presently on appeal. The UFO Club was fined $1,000 and this is also presently on appeal.

Efforts to open a new club similar to the UFO failed to materialize and no efforts are being made at the present time to organize or open a similar type club.

I. POTENTIAL COUNTERINTELLIGENCE ACTION

On 9/14/70, [REDACTED] advised that he has been following and maintaining contact with the Licensing Division for city restaurants and has learned that no efforts have been made by the dissidents to open a new coffeehouse restaurant in the Columbia area. REC 25

[REDACTED] stated that he will maintain contact with the Licensing Division in order to block efforts of the dissidents to open a new coffeehouse in the Columbia, S.C., area.

On 9/14/70, [REDACTED] USC, and an established [REDACTED] of the Columbia Division, advised that the USC Administration has placed tighter restrictions on the student groups at USC and that instructions have been issued in the form of a memo to each student enrolling at USC, that if they do not meet the code of conduct while in attendance, they will be dismissed from the USC as a student. [REDACTED] stated that this should limit the dissident students in their efforts to disrupt and destroy USC property during the coming year.

[REDACTED] also advised that as of 9/21/70, no effort has been made by a dissident group to organize or obtain a charter at USC. He also advised that USC has no knowledge of any pending dissident groups attempting to organize at USC.

Informants have stated that there is very little activity on the part of dissident groups in Columbia, S.C., at the present time and to their knowledge, there are no immediate plans to organize a student group at the present time. The Columbia Division will follow all activities at USC and will attempt to capitalize on any efforts of a dissident group planning to organize and obtain a charter at USC.

II. PENDING COUNTERINTELLIGENCE ACTION

[REDACTED] SI and AI subject, was convicted in the Richland County Court in the latter part of July, 1970, of malicious destruction of real property and received an 18 month sentence. [REDACTED] presently out on bond.

CO 100-344

[REDACTED] advised that they also have charges pending against [REDACTED] of carrying a concealed weapon (mace canister) and this charge will be put on the court docket for the fall term of 1970. [REDACTED] stated that this charge will carry up to one year sentence.

[REDACTED] also stated that he learned that [REDACTED] will be tried in Lexington County, Lexington, S.C., during the latter part of 9/70, on a charge of assaulting an officer on 5/3/70, during the visit of President RICHARD M. NIXON to Columbia, S.C.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

The UFO Club, which was closed 1/15/70, remains closed while the case is under appeal and it has been learned that the Solicitor of Richland County, S.C., does not plan on bringing the appeal before the proper officials until sometime in 1971, due to the heavy court docket which means that the UFO Club could not reopen until after the appeal, in the event the court action is reversed in favor of the UFO Club. The owner of the building where the UFO Club is located has served eviction papers on the management and as soon as the appeal hearing takes place, the owner is asking that the UFO personnel vacate the building.

As previously stated, [REDACTED] is presently out on appeal on an 18 month sentence and is presently facing two further court actions which should eliminate [REDACTED] from the Columbia area as a potential agitator and leader of New Left activities. When [REDACTED] posted a $7,500 bond, while his case is being appealed, the Judge set down strict restrictions which eliminate [REDACTED] from participating in any dissident activities in the state of South Carolina, and that he is not to leave the state of South Carolina without permission of the Judge.

It is also noted that during the student disturbance at USC during May, 1970, approximately 70 students were arrested on various charges. It was also noted that the leaders of the AWARE organization, the dissident New Left group at USC, were dismissed on a permanent basis or until 9/71, and were served letters not to return to the campus during this period or they would be arrested for trespassing. It is believed that this letter will eliminate the majority of the trouble at USC during the 1970-71 school year.

To request pamphlet preparation of attached newspaper article describing anti-Semitism of New Left and Black Panther Party (BPP) for anonymous mailing to selected individuals and organizations as counterintelligence effort.

Attached article from "The New York Times" highlights fear of Jews to anti-Zionism of New Left and violence-prone BPP. This fear is reportedly based on increasing concern that claim of both that their anti-Zionism represents only hostility to Israel as imperialistic partner of this country, is but terrifying sham for actual, abusive, hateful anti-Semitism. The concern is apparently sufficiently founded in fact and prevalence to warrant consideration by even a liberal newspaper such as "The New York Times." The article documents instances in radical publications and presents other material which attests to this concern, and thus indirectly applies embarrassing anti-Semitic stigma to many organizations of radical New Left and BPP.

To capitalize on same from counterintelligence aspect, it is felt article content can be prepared in more striking pamphlet format to be distributed to selected offices and anonymously mailed to selected individuals or organizations within areas where full impact of anti-Semitism on part of New Left and Black Panthers can be made.

Jews Fear Anti-Zionism of New Left

By LINDA CHARLTON

Hostility to Israel in the New Left has aroused increasing concern among many American Jews, some of whom are convinced that such animosity is a convenient mask for a resurgence of anti-Semitism.

In private argument and public debate, in magazines such as Commentary and Trans-action, and at seminars, conferences and cocktail parties, the question of whether the anti-Israel, pro-Arab feelings of some radicals can be equated with traditional forms of anti-Semitism is being worried over by a growing number of Jews.

Some Jews contend that for many in the New Left, anti-Zionism is a purely political position reached on the basis of an anti-imperialist question that assumes Israel to be a client and a supporter of the United States. But others maintain that such political attitudes can be legitimately construed as anti-Semitism, whether or not they are expressed intentionally.

And still other Jews point to instances in which anti-Zionism has been used as a transparent code for anti-Jewish feeling—when "Zionist" stands for "Jew" and is used in the classical manner, as a term of abuse in itself.

Antagonism to Israel is most visible in articles appearing in radical and underground publications, and on college campuses where more and more Arab students have been appearing as speakers. But it also surfaced last week at a Central Park rally marking the 25th anniversary of the dropping of the atomic bomb on Japan.

Paul O'Dwyer, a leading figure of the "liberal left," and a gun-runner for Israel in the nineteen-forties, was virtually booed from the speakers' platform by about 100 young people in the audience who said they opposed his pro-Israel position.

"If my position in relation to Israel makes it impossible for me to speak to you about peace, then I shall reluctantly have to leave this platform," Mr. O'Dwyer said. The booing continued and Mr. O'Dwyer left.

To counter the anti-Israel campaign some young Jews have formed campus-based, left-oriented groups that are specifically pro-Israel. And worried Jewish community organizations, such as the Anti-Defamation League and the American Jewish Committee, are watching anti-Israeli activity carefully, compiling file folder after file folder of material, trying to assess its meaning.

Richard Cohen, the associate executive director of the American Jewish Congress contends: "We don't think there is any valid or real difference between anti-Israel sentiment and anti-Semitism. Anti-Zionism is a cover for anti-Semitism."

Mr. Cohen said in an interview that he would not call every critic of the legitimacy of Israel's policies anti-Jewish. But, he added:

"Because we believe that Israel is essential in the survival of the Jewish people in a post-Auschwitz world, in propose that this Jewish state be either obliterated or revised into a so-called nonsectarian state is ultimately anti-Semitism because it would tend to very seriously wound and injure and diminish the possibility of Jewish continuity."

'Old Venom' Cited

Another authority who argues that the anti-Israel sentiment on the left that surfaced after the Six-Day War in 1967 is the same old venom in new bottles is Moshe Lazar, the chairman of the romance league.

His department at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem and an authority on anti-Semitism in the Middle Ages.

"After Auschwitz and Buchenwald, overt anti-Semitism was no longer fashionable in most intellectual circles," said Professor Lazar in an interview here. "Now it is expressed in anti-Zionist propaganda, which they find more acceptable."

The sort of material that, in the view of Hans Morgenthau, the political scientist, tends to "still some of the entrenched anti-Semitic prejudices that have been popularized through the ages," can be found in almost every issue of the publications of the cluster of groups sheltering under the umbrella term of "the New Left."

A target now in these publications is Israel; the word "Jew" is rarely used and the term "Zionist" is substituted. But sometimes, as in an article in The Black Panther, the militant black party's weekly newspaper, that referred repeatedly to a slumlord as a "racist Zionist," it seems an interchangeable code word.

One of the earliest expositions of the radicals' vision of the Middle East appeared in the June-July, 1967, issue of the newsletter of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, which actually appeared in early August, 1967. The two-page spread of text, photographs and drawings contains little that has not reappeared, basically unchanged, in innumerable radical publications since then.

One cartoon shows Moshe Dayan — the eyepatch is unmistakable — epaulettes with dollar signs. Another shows Muhammad Ali (Cassius Clay, the boxer), and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic throttled with a noose held by a hand decorated with the Star of David. A dollar sign centers the star, and an arm and curved sword labeled "Third World Liberation Movement" are raised to slash the rope.

A Parallel to Nazis Drawn

ENCLOSURE

Nazi Germany, a staple of Soviet anti-Israel propaganda. The most shocking aspect of the anti-Israeli rhetoric to many Jews.

Similarly, in a series on "Zionism vs. Socialism" in the March, 1970, issue of The Long Beach (Calif.) Free Press, Mike Klonsky, a leader of the RYM: II faction of the Students for a Democratic Society, equated the "continuous attacks on the Arab people" by Israel with "The German Fascists who committed genocide against the Jews."

And a recent issue of The Black Panther devoted its entire back page to a cartoon depicting "Israel: The Zionist Puppet State of Imperialism." Israel, shown as an eyepatched pig labeled "World Zionism," is sucking greedily at nursing bottles filled with dollar signs that are held by a cluster of smiling pigs labeled "U.S. Imperialism, West Germany, France and Britain."

Another 1970 issue of the Panther weekly newsletter contained an article entitled "Will Racism or International Proletarian Solidarity Conquer?" by Connie Matthews, who is described as the international co-ordinator of the party.

It was a "Zionist judge, Judge [Monroe] Friedman" who sentenced Huey P. Newton, Miss Matthews wrote, and another "Zionist judge," Julius J. Hoffman, who "allowed the other Zionists to go free but has kept Bobby Seale in jail and sentenced him to four years for contempt charges."

Beyond that, she charged: "The other Zionists in the Conspiracy 8 trial were willing and did sacrifice Bobby Seale and his role . . . to gain publicity. We once again condemn Zionism as a racist doctrine."

"Fire!" the now-defunct publication of the Weatherman faction of S.D.S., wrote in August, 1969, of "The almost universal collaboration of organized Jewry with the Nazis . . . and the general absence of resistance" and charged that Israel has "proved incapable of even one humane gesture" toward the Arab population.

A 1969 series, "History of the Middle East Liberation Struggle," in New Left Notes, an S.D.S. publication, links Israel's beginnings with "leaders in developing world imperialism like the Baron Edmund de Rothschild," and characterizes its founding as having taken place on the basis of "The complete relocation of thousands of people of color."

Defamation of Israel is accompanied by the glorification of the Arab-guerrilla cause. In the March, 1970 issue of "Millitant," the publication of the Young Socialist Alliance, a Trotskyite-Marxist group, a recitation of the disavowals by various guerrilla groups of responsibility for the explosion aboard a Swissair jet was followed by:

"The truth, though, is that if in fact a Palestinian individual or organization had anything to do with the crash of the Swissair liner, the 47 people who died were as much the victims of imperialism as . . . the 400 Vietnamese men, women and children of Songmy and the six million Jews of Central and Eastern Europe."

Israel Linked to U.S.

This paragraph also demonstrates a basic equation underlying much of the hostile rhetoric. Israel, since its 1967 victory over the Arabs, is identified by the radical left with the United States and with all the ills — imperialism, exploitation and oppression of the "Third World" — of which the United States is accused and, indeed, convicted by them.

A matching factor is the identification of black militant groups, in particular the Black Panthers, with the Arab cause. And at least in part because of the pervasive influence of the Panthers in the New Left, Dr. Amitai Etzioni of Columbia University said in an interview that one's attitude toward Israel now "serves as a test in the left-liberal camp."

But Dr. Etzioni described the "mechanical positions" of the New Left as "stupid, not anti-Semitic," the result of "simply-mindedly projecting on the Middle East, hawk and dove positions that have nothing to do with the Middle East."

Dr. Etzioni, for many years an Israeli citizen who served with the armed forces there, maintains that the left's traditional sympathy with what it saw as the underdog contributed to the upsurge of anti-Israel feeling since David beat Goliath in June, 1967:

"If the Israelis hadn't won so easily," he said, the New Left "would love them better."

Among those who feel that criticism of, even hostility to, Israel is a political phenomenon and not some fugitive, mutant strain of anti-Jewish feeling are some prominent intellectuals of the New Left.

Dr. Noam Chomsky, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology linguist, said in an interview recently that it was "obviously perfect nonsense" to equate criticism of Israel with anti-Semitism, either the specific criticism of Israeli policy and attitude that he and others such as I.F. Stone, for years an Israel supporter, have made, or the virulent attacks in the radical press.

In an article replying to attacks on his position, Dr. Chomsky wrote: "It is quite impossible to identify a definite New Left doctrine" vis-a-vis Israel, except for "the Black Liberation movement, whose attitude about the Middle East must be interpreted in terms of domestic American problems and developments."

Dr. Chomsky added: "To the extent that there is anti-Israel feeling in the New Left, it is in part in reaction to the behavior of the American Jewish community, to its extolling of the martial and chauvinistic elements in Israeli society, which are by no means dominant there."

Explanations Are Varied

One aspect of the New Left attitude that is particularly distressing to many American Jews and one most likely to split the generations sharply, is the fact that many young radical activists are Jewish, and hence participants in what their elders may see as anti-Semitism. The suggested explanations for this vary, too.

Josh Muravchik is a 22-year-old 1970 graduate of City College who was a founder of the Young Committee for Peace and Democracy in the Middle East, a campus-based group that he described as a "left" organization that believes that radicals should support Israel." Mr. Muravchik sees a subtle, perhaps unacknowledged anti-Semitism in the participation of young Jews who are active in the radical left.

"Anti-Israel new-leftism has become for many young Jews a modern means of 'passing,'" he says.

Richard Cohen described such Jewish involvement in anti-Israel activity as having "a number of reasons — an insane kind of self-hatred that has characterized Jewish anti-Semitism for a long time, the need to identify with the majority, to rebel against your parents."

Jerry Rubin, the "Chicago Conspiracy" defendant and one of the most prominent of the Jewish radicals, explained his own anti-Israel, pro-Arab position, in blunt terms in an interview last year. It began, he said, with a disillusioning visit to Israel: "So here I came for idealism and I got — America. I became anti-Israeli and pro-Arab."

Michael Spiegel, then a national secretary of S.D.S., said in an interview last year that Jewish members of the organization, "At first, coming from middle-class Jewish backgrounds . . . are shocked by the prospect of anti-Zionism. But when they think about it, they come to the inevitable conclusion."

Another hypothesis was put forward by Bertram H. Gold, the executive vice president of the American Jewish Committee. Mr. Gold says the willingness of young American Jews to become involved may be traceable, in part, to their own lack of a sense of "being Jewish."

The holocaust that consumed six million Jews in Europe is not scarred into the memory of a generation born after World War II, he maintains. Nor, Mr. Gold says, can they remember, as their parents can, when anti-Semitism was almost commonplace, if not respectable, in this country; when universities had Jewish quotas for both students and faculty and hotels displayed signs that said, "No Dogs or Jews Allowed."

On the whole, he said, the young radicals "don't know what anti-Semitism is."

Israel Fronting for U.S. in New Attack on Arab People

Israel's armed division that has been on Jordanian soil ever since June, '67. But, well-known observers claimed that Israel would have to withdraw from Jordan, possibly ending it over altogether, if the Israeli division had not been there.
While the "peace" efforts under American diplomat Lester B. Goodhart are going on and a big effort is being made to appear impartial about it all, the fact is that the U.S. is backing the Israel, not the Arab.
Even Nixon and Humphrey, as well as Goldwater, and their pro-Israel policies during the election campaign, although President-elect Johnson is reportedly more cautious here and there, are equally ready to back the Arab. For that

The imperialists actually need an assigned article that appeared in Peace da yesterday. The article said that the Israeli leadership wanted a political settlement, and would not "prevent" a resumption of large-scale fighting in the area.
But this was also pretty much the case with the Soviet leaders in June, '67. And the Israeli attack, however, imperialism is never satisfied, has given it a reputation in the Arab world. And Israel's expansion into Arab territory is far more an expression of the drive of imperialism than the domination of Jewish nationalism in the U.S.
In fact, the Israelis are, in spite of the modern era, not any the less, the most backward the Arabs. This is the national interest of the Soviet Union.

Samples of anti-Zionist and pro-Arab material from radical publications. Upper left, cartoon from S.N.C.C. Newsletter depicts President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Muhammad Ali, or Cassius Clay. Upper right, central figure is marked "World Zionism," and drinks from bottles bearing dollar signs, held by figures marked West Germany, France, Britain and U.S. Imperialism. This and headline at top are from The Black Panther. Text and the drawing of a guerrilla at bottom are from Workers World, biweekly published here.

WON'T GIVE UP
Linda Jenness

Jenness Would Run By Write-In

Ballot Ruling
Scheduled - Oct. 5

By PHIL GALEY

Mrs. Linda Jenness said Thursday she and other Socialist Workers Party candidates will run a write-in campaign if they lose their legal battle to get on the ballot without qualifying fees or nominating petitions.

U.S. Supreme Court Associate Justice Hugo Black refused Wednesday to order the names of Mrs. Jenness and two other party candidates on the general election ballot, pending the hearing of their case by the high court Oct. 5.

"Mrs. Jenness, a SWP gubernatorial candidate, is asking the court to declare unconstitutional state laws requiring all candidates to pay qualifying fees and independents to have nominating petitions signed by five per cent of the state's registered voters.

PRESS CONFERENCE

"This decision by Hugo Black involves only the request for an injunction to place us on the ballot pending the hearing of our case before the Supreme Court," Mrs. Jenness said at a press conference at the State Capitol. "If the court refuses to hear our case or rules unfavorably, then we'll run a vigorous write-in campaign."

She said she will ask Secretary of State Ben Fortson to delay printing the general election ballot until the case is settled.

However under state law, county ordinaries must display voting machines complete with ballots on Oct. 5, "insofar as practicable."

THREE JUDGE PANEL

On June 22, a three-judge federal panel in Atlanta struck down the qualifying fee, ruling the three were paupers, but upheld the nominating petitions as the equivalent of a state primary.

Mrs. Jenness said familiar suits from at least two other states have been filed, adding, "I believe that this pressure will influence the Supreme Court to rule favorably on these suits, including ours."

Anticipating a favorable ruling, the socialist candidate, who also ran a write-in campaign for mayor of Atlanta, said she, Joe Cole and Frank Grinnon, candidates for the 4th and 5th congressional seats respectively, plan to file by Sept. 1 a notice of candidacy along with the minutes of "the nominating convention we held in early June. Thus we will be filing all the papers required by the State of Georgia to have a place on the ballot, except for the 88,000 signatures for governor and the 11,000 for congressional candidates."

She said the present spectrum of gubernatorial candidates — some of whom she described as "looney and nuts" — prove that a qualifying fee does not discourage non-serious candidates.

"Everyone knows I'm more serious than some of these who happened to have the qualifying fee but no principles," she added.

This memorandum recommends informants of the Salt Lake City, Omaha, and Denver Offices be authorized to send contributions and letters to a post office box registered to the People's Army Jamboree (PAJ) in Portland, Ore., to make contact with that organization.

The PAJ is an umbrella-type ad hoc organization composed of New Left groups in the Portland, Ore., area which is organizing demonstrations in Portland during the period 8/29-9/3/70. During this same period, the American Legion is holding its national convention in Portland and just prior to that, the National Association of District Attorneys (NADA) is scheduling a national conference. The Attorney General is scheduled to appear at this conference.

Portland has advised that all signs suggest that New Left groups are making every effort to bring militants to the city to cause disruptions and confrontations with the Legionnaires during the convention. The early arrival of New Leftists would put them in the city during the NADA's conference on 8/17-23/70.

At the present time, Portland's informants have been unable to develop any concrete plans as to what the New Leftists intend to do during this period.

Portland has suggested that appropriate [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] The contribution would be accompanied by a note requesting information as to what is planned during the confrontation with the Legionnaires and indicating that the donor would be interested in participating. REC-56

Portland suggests that this method may be used to develop specific plans that have been developed by the Portland group. It would also be possible to develop evidence of a conspiracy to violate antiriot laws.

OBSERVATIONS:

From information furnished by Portland, it appears that militant groups in the northwest will attempt to confront the American Legion. Violence-prone elements from other parts of the country will undoubtedly attempt to participate in this activity. Portland's suggestion has merit since it will help to develop the plans of the militants, and secondly, these informants would have a more logical opportunity to participate if they have shown a previous interest by writing to the sponsors of the demonstration.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached teletype to Portland, copies to Salt Lake City, Omaha, and Denver, authorizing Portland's recommendation be approved and sent.

Jews Fear Anti-Zionism of New Left

By LINDA CHARLTON

Hostility to Israel in the New Left has aroused increasing concern among many American Jews, some of whom are convinced that such animosity is a convenient mask for a resurgence of anti-Semitism.

In private argument and public debate, in magazines such as Commentary and Trans-action, and at seminars, conferences and cocktail parties, the question of whether the anti-Israel, pro-Arab feelings of some radicals can be equated with traditional forms of anti-Semitism is being worried over by a growing number of Jews.

Some Jews contend that for many in the New Left, anti-Zionism is a purely political position reached on the basis of an anti-imperialist question that assumes Israel to be a client and a supporter of the United States. But others maintain that such political attitudes can be legitimately construed as anti-Semitism, whether or not they are expressed intentionally.

And still other Jews point to instances in which anti-Zionism has been used as a transparent code for anti-Jewish feeling—when "Zionist" stands for "Jew" and is used in the classical manner, as a term of abuse in itself.

Antagonism to Israel is most visible in articles appearing in radical and underground publications, and on college campuses where more and more Arab students have been appearing as speakers. But it also surfaced last week at a Central Park rally marking the 25th anniversary of the dropping of the atomic bomb on Japan.

Paul O'Dwyer, a leading figure of the "liberal left," and a gun-runner for Israel in the nineteen-forties, was virtually booed from the speakers' platform by about 100 young people in the audience who said they opposed his pro-Israel position.

"If my position in relation to Israel makes it impossible for me to speak to you about peace, then I shall reluctantly have to leave this platform," Mr. O'Dwyer said. The booing continued and Mr. O'Dwyer left.

To counter the anti-Israel campaign some young Jews have formed campus-based, left-oriented groups that are specifically pro-Israel. And worried Jewish community organizations, such as the Anti-Defamation League and the American Jewish Committee, are watching anti-Israeli activity carefully, compiling file folders after file folder of material, trying to assess its meaning.

Richard Cohen, the associate executive director of the American Jewish Congress contends: "We don't think there is any valid or real difference between anti-Israel sentiment and anti-Semitism. Anti-Zionism is a cover for anti-Semitism."

Mr. Cohen said in an interview that he would not call every critic of the legitimacy of Israel's policies anti-Jewish. But he added:

"Because we believe that Israel is essential to the survival of the Jewish people in a post-Auschwitz world, to propose that this Jewish state be either obliterated or revised into a so-called nonsectarian state is ultimately anti-Semitism because it would tend to very seriously wound and injure and diminish the possibility of Jewish continuity."

'Old Venom' Cited

Another authority who argues that the anti-Israeli sentiment on the left that surfaced after the Six-Day War in 1967 is the same old venom in new bottles is Moshe Lazar, the chairman of the romance languages department at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem and an authority on anti-Semitism in the Middle Ages.

"After Auschwitz and Buchenwald, overt anti-Semitism was no longer fashionable in most intellectual circles," said Professor Lazar in an interview here. "Now it is expressed in anti-Zionist propaganda, which they find more acceptable."

The sort of material that, in the view of Hans Morgenthau, the political scientist, tends to "stir some of the entrenched anti-Semitic prejudices that have been popularized through the ages," can be found in almost every issue of the publications of the cluster of groups sheltering under the umbrella term of "the New Left."

A target now in these publications is Israel; the word "Jew" is rarely used and the term "Zionist" is substituted. But sometimes, as in an article in The Black Panther, the militant black party's weekly newspaper, that referred repeatedly to a siumlord as a "racist Zionist." It seems an interchangeable code word.

One of the earliest expostulations of the radicals' vision of the Middle East appeared in the June-July, 1967, issue of the newsletter of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, which actually appeared in early August, 1967. The two-page spread of text, photographs and drawings contains little that has not reappeared, basically unchanged, in innumerable radical publications since then.

One cartoon shows Moshe Dayan — the eyepatch is unmistakable — epauletted with dollar signs. Another shows Muhammad Ali (Cassius Clay, the boxer), and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic throttled with a noose held by a hand decorated with the Star of David. A dollar sign centers the star, and an tional sympathy with what it saw as the underdog contributed to the upsurge of anti-Israel feeling since David beat Goliath in June, 1967.

"If the Israelis hadn't won so easily," he said, the 'New Left' "would love them better."

Among those who feel that criticism of, even hostility to, Israel is a political phenomenon and not some fugitive, mutant strain of anti-Jewish feeling are some prominent intellectuals of the New Left.

Dr. Noam Chomsky, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology linguist, said in an interview recently that it was "obviously perfect nonsense" to equate criticism of Israel with anti-Semitism, either the specific criticism of Israeli policy and attitude that he and others such as I.F. Stone, for years an Israel supporter, have made, or the virulent attacks in the radical press.

In an article replying to attacks on his position, Dr. Chomsky wrote: "It is quite impossible to identify a definite New Left doctrine" vis-a-vis Israel except for "the Black Liberation movement, whose attitude about the Middle East must be interpreted in terms of domestic American problems and developments."

Dr. Chomsky added: "To the extent that there is anti-Israel feeling in the New Left, it is in part in reaction to the behavior of the American Jewish community, to its extolling of the martial and chauvinistic elements in Israeli society, which are by no means dominant there."

One aspect of the New Left attitude that is particularly distressing to many American Jews, and one most likely to split the generations sharply, is the fact that many young radical activists are Jewish, and hence participants in what their elders may see as anti-Semitism. The suggested explanations for this vary, too.

Josh Muravchik is a 22-year-old 1970 graduate of City College who was a founder of the Youth Committee for Peace and Democracy in the Middle East, a campus-based group that he described as a "left" organization that believes that radicals should support Israel." Mr. Muravchik sees a subtle, perhaps unacknowledged anti-Semitism in the participation of young Jews who are active in the radical left.

"Anti-Israel new-leftism has become for many young Jews a modern means of 'passing,'" he says.

Richard Cohen described such Jewish involvement in anti-Israel activity as having "a number of reasons — an insane kind of self-hatred that has characterized Jewish anti-Semitism for a long time, the need to identify with the majority, to rebel against your parents."

Jerry Rubin, the "Chicago Conspiracy" defendant and one of the most prominent of the Jewish radicals, explained his own anti-Israel, pro-Arab position, in blunt terms in an interview last year. It began, he said, with a disillusioning visit to Israel: "So here I came for idealism and I got — America. I became anti-Israeli and pro-Arab."

"Inevitable Conclusion"

Michael Spiegel, then a national secretary of S.D.S., said in an interview last year that Jewish members of the organization, "At first, coming from middle-class Jewish backgrounds . . . are shocked by the prospect of anti-Zionism. But when they think about it, they come to the inevitable conclusion."

Another hypothesis was put forward by Bertram H. Gold, the executive vice president of the American Jewish Committee. Mr. Gold says the willingness of young American Jews to become involved may be traceable, in part, to their own lack of a sense of "being Jewish."

The holocaust that consumed six million Jews in Europe is not seared into the memory of a generation born after World War II, he maintains. Nor, Mr. Gold says, can they remember, as their parents can, when anti-Semitism was almost commonplace, if not respectable, in this country; when universities had Jewish quotas for both students and faculty and hotels displayed signs that said, "No Dogs or Jews Allowed."

On the whole, he said, the young radicals "don't know what anti-Semitism is."

arm and curved sword labeled "Third World Liberation Movement" are raised to slash the rope.

A Parallel to Nazis Drawn

There are photographs of "laughtered bodies, captioned: 'Gaza Massacres, 1956,' and 'This is the Gaza Strip, Palestine, not Dachau, Germany.' This parallel between Israel and Nazi Germany, a staple of Soviet anti-Israel propaganda, is the most shocking aspect of the anti-Israeli rhetoric to many Jews.

Similarly, in a series on "Zionism vs. Socialism" in the March, 1970, issue of The Long Beach (Calif.) Free Press, Mike Klonsky, a leader of the RYM-II faction of the Students for a Democratic Society, equated the "continuous attacks on the Arab people" by Israel with "The German Fascists who committed genocide against the Jews."

And a recent issue of The Black Panther devoted its entire back page to a cartoon depicting "Israel: The Zionist Puppet State of Imperialism." Israel, shown as an eyepatched pig labeled "World Zionism," is sucking greedily at nursing bottles filled with dollar signs that are held by a cluster of smiling pigs labeled "U.S. Imperialism, West Germany, France and Britain."

Another 1970 issue of the Panther weekly newsletter contained an article entitled "Will Racism or International Proletarian Solidarity Conquer?" by Connie Matthews, who is described as the international coordinator of the party.

It was a "Zionist judge, Judge [Monroe] Friedman" who sentenced Huey P. Newton, Miss Matthews wrote, and another "Zionist judge," Julius J. Hoffman, who "allowed the other Zionists to go free but has kept Bobby Seale in jail and sentenced him to four years for contempt charges."

Beyond that, she charged: "The other Zionists in the Conspiracy R trial were willing and did sacrifice Bobby Seale and his role . . . to gain publicity. We once again condemn Zionism as a racist doctrine."

"Fire!" the now-defunct publication of the Weatherman faction of S.D.S., wrote in August, 1969, of "The almost universal collaboration of organized Jewry with the Nazis . . . and the general absence of resistance" and charged that erial from radical publications. Upper left, president Gamal Abdel Nasser and Muhammad marked "World Zionism" drinks from bottles on are from The Black Panther. The text and others World, biweekly that is published here.

Israel has "proved incapable of even one humane gesture" toward the Arab population.

A 1969 series, "History of the Middle East Liberation Struggle," in New Left Notes, an S.D.S. publication, links Israel's beginnings with "leaders in developing world imperialism like the Baron Edmund de Rothschild" and characterizes its founding as having taken place on the basis of "The complete relocation of thousands of people of color."

Defamation of Israel is accompanied by the glorification of the Arab-guerrilla cause. In the March, 1970 issue of "Millitant," the publication of the Young Socialist Alliance, a Trotskyite-Marxist group, a recitation of the disavowals by various guerrilla groups of responsibility for the explosion aboard a Swissair jet was followed by:

"The truth, though, is that if in fact a Palestinian individual or organization had anything to do with the crash of the Swissair liner, the 47 people who died were as much the victims of imperialism as the 400 Vietnamese men, women and children of Sonamv and the six million Jews of Central and Eastern Europe."

Israel Linked to U.S.

This paragraph also demonstrates a basic equation underlying much of the hostile rhetoric. Israel, since its 1967 victory over the Arabs, is identified by the radical left with the United States and with all the sins — imperialism, exploitation and oppression of the "Third World" — of which the United States is accused and, indeed, convicted by them.

A matching factor is the identification of black militant groups, in particular the Black Panthers, with the Arab cause. And at least in part because of the pervasive influence of the Panthers in the New Left, Dr. Amitai Etzioni of Columbia University said in an interview that one's attitude toward Israel now "serves as a test in the left-liberal camp."

But Dr. Etzioni described the "mechanical positions" of the New Left as "stupid, not anti-Semitic," the result of "simply mindlessly projecting on the Middle East, hawk and dove positions that have nothing to do with the Middle East."

Dr. Etzioni, for many years an Israeli citizen who served with the armed forces there, maintains that the left's impli-

Re San Diego letter to the Bureau 4/30/70.

A. POTENTIAL COUNTERINTELLIGENCE ACTION

The Bureau has been previously advised by separate communication that counterintelligence action in San Diego would be considered against the People's Commune located in the 3200 block of Second and Third Avenues in San Diego where [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] are residents. Through frequent contacts with the owner of the property in the 3200 block of Second and Third Avenues making inquiry concerning the occupants, the property was not again rented to the People's Commune and they have now moved to 2412 J Street, San Diego, in a typical old house needing considerable repair.

[REDACTED] and as a result it is expected that numerous members of the Commune will be arrested by the San Diego Police Department on various charges such as use and sale of marijuana.

The People's Commune remains as a potential for counterintelligence action; however, at the present time it does not appear that counterintelligence action should be taken as the group is considerably off balance due to the actions of the San Diego Police Department.

The Movement for a Democratic Military (MDM), 519 Freeman Street, Oceanside, California, remains as a potential target for counterintelligence action. This group has, during April, 1970, had a demonstration at Oceanside, California, at which a number of the speakers used obscene language. Transcripts of these speeches are presently being made by local officials and by the FBI. Local officials intend to obtain warrants for violation of the law in the use of this obscene language which would be a misdemeanor. It is believed that this will tend to keep speakers from using such language in the future and will have a slowing effect on demonstrations by this group. It is noted that a warrant is outstanding for "disturbing the peace" against [redacted] one of the "Chicago Seven" individuals tried under anti-riot laws. This warrant is outstanding because he used obscene language at a speech at San Diego State College, San Diego, on 6/19/70.

Local and Federal officials are continuing a spirited cooperation in the coverage and possible prosecution of individuals involved in this group.

B. PENDING COUNTERINTELLIGENCE ACTION

Under the present conditions in San Diego counterintelligence action is not being taken in cases where the groups are in a state of confusion due to arrests or other action taken by local officials. It is noted that possibly as a part of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) summer program of becoming employed in various businesses, two members of the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) in San Diego became employed, one at the San Diego Gas and Electric Company, and one for the Copley Newspapers. Both of these employers are considered potential targets of new left activity and inquiry was made to verify the employment of these individuals and as a result of this inquiry steps were taken by the employers to either discharge the employees or to place them in such a position where they could do no harm to the business. San Diego feels that where radical new left individuals become employed in public utilities, through their security officers, should be advised that such an individual has penetrated their organization. It is felt that this can best be done by verifying the individual's employment. UACB San Diego will continue to take such action where necessary.

C.

TANGIBLE RESULTS

Unidentified persons and groups continue to take some violent counterintelligence action against new left groups in San Diego and as a result such groups have had difficulty in maintaining membership at a high level and in carrying out proposed activities such as demonstrations and rallies. The San Diego Office has taken no direct counterintelligence action and there are therefore no tangible results from any action taken by the FBI.

San Diego will continue to be alert for instances where counterintelligence action could possibly aid in the destruction of new left groups in San Diego.

The Cincinnati Office realizes there are some dangers to this plan but certainly the risks seem to be justified in a situation where every tool available must be used to neutralize the Weathermen terror. u

3. Cincinnati is preparing photographs of [REDACTED] which the laboratory can process to show him in a compromising position with the Cincinnati Police Department. The photographs will be submitted promptly. Photographs will depict [REDACTED] in contact with [REDACTED] who is known to most of the Cincinnati activists as the [REDACTED]. u

The enclosures are the result of this effort. The note was hand printed similar to style to the original "Weatherman" note to Associated Press containing boasts of the 6/9/60 bombing in New York City. A photo of this note appeared throughout the US in the public press. u

Cincinnati has enclosed for the Bureau two xerox copies of the Weatherman note for ready reference. u

Cincinnati recommends Bureau authorize Buffalo to mail the letter in the prepared envelope from a downtown Buffalo, New York, post office. Prior to mailing the letter and the envelope should be smudged to make it appear to have been carried for several days before mailing. No smudge marks should be made in the area where the postmark will appear as it is important that the Buffalo postmark be clear and legible. u

The primary purpose of the anonymous letter is to take advantage of the Weatherman fugitive status to cause confusion and disruption. The following are thought to be some of the possible results. u

By following the style of the original Weatherman note, seek to induce the Liberation News Service to release copies of it to all underground newspapers subscribing to LNS service. The note would then be reprinted throughout the US. u

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

No effort was made to copy the handprinting of the original note exactly. The Weathermen can easily observe that the note is not a professional plant but apparently written by someone wanting to get a message to them. Being in a fugitive status they will not be able to get together to discuss the note and decide on a policy. The Weathermen will not know which of their former associates believe the note or not. If the Weathermen have decided informant is a "Pig" they still will have no way of knowing who among their former associates believe the informant is not a "Pig", therefore they will be forced to reconsider who can be trusted. If the Weathermen have decided informant is not a "Pig" the note will assure them their decision was correct and that informant is not furnishing any information concerning their past activities.

[REDACTED]

If the LV3 does release photos of the note it will confuse most New Left people and cause them to doubt their own newspapers, [REDACTED] and others.

Jerry Rubin

The wording and spelling used in the note are Weatherman language and Weatherman logic as understood by the informant. The note purposely contains an implied threat that a bigger bust could still be caused if informant actually is a "Pig". u

Re Philadelphia letter 2/9/70 and airtel 3/31/70.

QUARTERLY SUMMARY

Potential Counterintelligence Action

The main target for counterintelligence action in the Philadelphia Division continues to be the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) - Weatherman forces and their supporters such as the "Philadelphia Free Press", an underground newspaper, self-described as an "independent and radical newspaper." As in the past, Philadelphia will continue to explore possibilities of creating and fostering dissension between the Weatherman forces and other New Left groups and also be alert to seize upon every opportunity to publicly expose the illegal, dishonest, and violent tactics utilized by the Weatherman forces.

P. Moore

Pending Counterintelligence Action

As noted previously, leaders of the "Philadelphia Free Press" (PFP) have expressed concern over the fact the finances of the paper were in such bad shape that they would be in serious trouble if the IRS should check into its finances.

On 3/3/70, SA's [redacted] and [redacted] contacted Agents [redacted] and [redacted] IRS Intelligence, seventh floor, 401 North Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pa., regarding the SDS Weatherman.

[redacted] and [redacted] advised that although they have no specific information, IRS Intelligence is concerned that the SDS Weatherman faction might join with the War Resistors League in the League's campaign to withhold payments of Federal income tax which is used for military purposes.

[redacted] and [redacted] noted that 401 North Broad Street is a very insecure building and that there are approximately a dozen entrances into the building. Because of this situation it would be possible for SDS Weatherman to easily invade the building and destroy IRS records in connection with the War Resistors League campaign against payments of Federal income taxes.

[redacted] and [redacted] were familiar with the vandalism at Station WCAU-TV, Philadelphia, Pa., on 1/10/70 and the subsequent claim in the "Philadelphia Free Press" that the group which vandalized WCAU-TV was the Quaker City SDS Weatherman.

They were told that aside from the above-mentioned article in the "Philadelphia Free Press" there has been only one other instance to date that an SDS Weatherman group exists in Philadelphia. This was [redacted] distributing copies of a throwaway at a demonstration at Independence Hall on 2/14/70 in support of the "Chicago Seven". This throwaway was captioned "Storm Brewing in Philadelphia, Be Prepared for Heavy Weather, Free the Panthers," and reflects it was issued by the Quaker City SDS. A xerox copy of the throwaway was furnished to [redacted] and [redacted].

It was pointed out to [redacted] and [redacted] that some of the individuals involved in the vandalism at WCAU-TV telephoned the "Philadelphia Free Press" after having been arrested. This indicates that the "Philadelphia Free Press" is involved with a possible SDS Weatherman group in Philadelphia. It was further pointed out to them that if the "Philadelphia Free Press" could be put out of business the possibility of an SDS Weatherman group operating in Philadelphia would be lessened.

They were told that the "Philadelphia Free Press" hold weekly meetings on Wednesday nights and that at the meeting of 1/21/70 there was a factional dispute concerning the finances of the "Free Press" and that [redacted], the then business manager of the "Philadelphia Free Press" and one of its publishers, was accused of being responsible for a $7,000 shortage in the "Philadelphia Free Press" accounts. They were also told that during the factional dispute that arose on 1/21/70 statements were made that the "Philadelphia Free Press" would be in considerable trouble if it should be audited by IRS.

The Agents further informed IRS Intelligence that at the 1/21/70 meeting, which was attended by approximately 50 individuals, there was a split between the followers of [REDACTED] the head publisher of the "Philadelphia Free Press", and the supporters of [REDACTED] and that [REDACTED] and his supporters left the meeting and threatened to publish a competing underground newspaper. They were told that [REDACTED] and his followers carried out their threat of publishing a competing underground newspaper with the publication of the first issue of "Plain Dealer" on 2/12/70.

Agents furnished IRS Intelligence with copies of the "Philadelphia Free Press" issue of 12/15/69, 2/9/70, and 2/23/70, and with a copy of the "Plain Dealer," 2/26/70. It was pointed out to IRS Intelligence that the listing of the staff in the issue of 12/15/69 was a considerably larger number than listings of the "Free Press" staff issues of 2/9 and 23/70, which is accounted for by the split which occurred on 1/21/70. It was also pointed out to them that the staff appearing in the issue of the "Plain Dealer" includes many individuals who are on the staff of the "Philadelphia Free Press" in the issue of 12/15/69, but who left the "Free Press" during the factionalism which arose on 1/21/70.

[REDACTED] said that he felt that IRS Intelligence could institute a civil investigation of the "Philadelphia Free Press" and that he would recommend such action so as to limit the paper's effectiveness toward encouraging an SDS Weatherman faction in the Philadelphia area.

IRS Intelligence requested that it be furnished with copies of future Philadelphia reports on SDS and they were told that such copies would be furnished.

As the Bureau is aware, Philadelphia, during the middle of March 1970, initiated investigation of a series of thefts of checkbooks, credit cards, and personal identification from college students in the Greater Philadelphia area. Investigation to date has uncovered evidence that the stolen items have been utilized by Weatherman figures to purchase clothing in Philadelphia and later New York City, purchase weapons and ammunition, and to rent cars in Philadelphia, the Newark area, New York City, and Vermont. Photographs of Weatherman figures and IO fugitives [REDACTED] [REDACTED] have been selected by witnesses as individuals believed to have utilized the stolen items in making purchases and renting cars. It is felt that the eventual successful documentation of and possible prosecution for these common criminal-type activities will further alienate other new left forces and isolate the Weatherman forces from the mainstream of new left activity.

Tangible Results

As noted previously, a representative of IRS, Intelligence Division, has stated that he would recommend that IRS institute a civil investigation of the PFP's financial structure. Such action could limit or destroy the PFP's effectiveness as a pro-Weatherman, pro-revolutionary propaganda arm in the Philadelphia area.

As noted in referenced Philadelphia airtel of 3/31/70, two articles appeared on the first page of the 3/29/70 issue of "The Sunday Bulletin", one of the two major newspapers in the Philadelphia area, publishing a Sunday edition. The thrust of these articles, which were stimulated by a reliable relationship developed with the reporters, was to inform the reading public of the interlocking nature of the New Left conspiracy and the unhappiness it creates in understandable human terms. It is felt these two articles made a substantial contribution toward a better understanding on the part of the general public of some of the motivations involved in the New Left movement.

Re Kansas City letter to Bureau 4-1-70.

At the present time, there are two principal groups active in the "New Left" in the Kansas City area. One is the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) and the other is the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) (Weatherman Faction). These two groups have publicly disagreed as to tactics. The YSA has recommended non-violence, whereas the SDS Faction has advocated militant confrontation with authorities. It is suggested that letters be directed to various publications, including campus newspapers, local "New Left" publications, and the Kansas City Star, a daily newspaper. These letters will be written anonymously, and consideration is also being given to utilizing the names of known members of both the SDS and YSA, criticizing both organizations. It is felt that this tactic will create antagonism between YSA and SDS in this area.

The Bureau is requested to approve this counter-intelligence action and advise the Kansas City Office.

Reurlet 5/28/70.

The Bureau agrees with your observation concerning the need for driving a wedge between the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) and the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), which groups are active in your area.

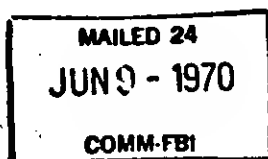

The use of anonymous letters can be effective in accomplishing this objective. The issues used must be timely and of sufficient interest to arouse the interest of members in each faction. You should continue to pursue this line of endeavor. You should, however, in each individual case, submit a proposed anonymous letter to the Bureau for approval prior to mailing it to its recipients.

NOTE:

By relet, Kansas City noted that the above were the principal New Left groups active in the Kansas City area and requested blanket authority to write anonymous letters in an effort to forge a wedge between the two groups. We need to keep closer control on these procedures and will authorize these letters on an individual basis.

Re BAlet, 2/4/70.

Baltimore has been following the current activities in the various factions of the SDS with the view in mind of taking advantage of any opportunities that may develop to widen any differences that may emerge between the various groups.

The Baltimore City PD through the cooperation of the Baltimore Office of the FBI and information furnished by [REDACTED] recently obtained murder indictments against several leading members of the Baltimore BPP in connection with a murder committed at BPP Headquarters in Baltimore. These indictments have had a very discouraging effect on the BPP in Baltimore and it is believed the forthcoming prosecution will serve to discourage this group further as the prosecutions will show to the public the true nature of this group.

Baltimore will continue to follow closely the activities of the New Left groups in the Baltimore area and should any further opportunities for counter-intelligence activity come to the attention of the Baltimore Office, appropriate requests will be immediately submitted to the Bureau.

Author's Foreword: From the thousands of letters I have received as a result of an earlier piece I wrote on militant campus youth, many interesting patterns have emerged. The letters I am "non-revolutionary" and non-violent" students taking me strongly to task for my views, were particularly interesting. They constitute, in effect, an attack on the basic ethic of my generation. I should like to answer that attack by addressing myself to a composite student. He (or she) is young, non-violent, idealistic and, in several elementary respects, wrong.

I am not attacking a whole generation in its wholeness; merely a part of a generation in its temporary (I hope) blindness. After all, the danger to themselves and to America lies not in where they are right, but in where they are wrong.

By K. ROSS TOOLE

Dear Student:

Let me dispose first of all of some of my misconceptions and misapprehensions (which I can only assume arise from taking seriously the pap which my generation via TV, Time, Life, the Atlantic, etc., produces concerning your generation). Your generation seems to get its image of itself from Eric Seviered, Lou Harris and the heirs and assigns of Henry Luce.

Let's take the Damoclean sword, the H-bomb syndrome, first. Where you people get the idea that you are the first generation to live on the edge of doom (and the first to live in a milieu of imminent individual and collective catastrophe) is more than I can assay. It is, of course, poppycock. Mostly, I think you get it because you simply haven't lived long enough to have discovered otherwise and, also, very few of you seem to have read much history.

THERE IS A VERY simple fact here: H-bomb, DDT, et al, notwithstanding, your generation grew up more secure (in the proper sense of that word) than any generation in the history of America — and probably in the history of modern times, that is, since 1500.

When you caught pneumonia in 1930, you almost always died; ditto for scarlet fever, spinal meningitis, blood poisoning (of which you've probably never heard but which was common), typhus and typhoid.

Three were no obstetricians. Surgeons used meat axes more often than scalpels, and patients died from post-operative shock, if not from infection. No penicillin, no antibiotics, no vitamins. As of 1930, the life-span of the average American male was 43 years.

In that year, 1930, 1,600 people dropped dead in Liege, Belgium, because of the effluent from an aluminum plant and a weather inversion. Three thousand more died within the week.

In the middle of the 14th Century, the plague killed one million Englishmen in a matter of weeks. So what's new? The simple fact is that you do not live in more dangerous or unsettled times than my generation did (when we were your age) and the simple fact is that collective death is no more awesome than individual death. Nobody gets out of this life alive, even your generation.

So the "sword" that hangs over your heads explains nothing and excuses you for nothing. It has always been there for mankind; it always will be.

LET'S CONSIDER this matter of "the psychically unsatisfying pursuit of material comfort" and your generation's preoccupation with "materialism" and "materialistic America." "Materialism" is something of which my generation is supposed to be particularly guilty and against which your generation is supposed to be particularly in revolt.

In the first place, the phrases your generation employs, such as "the psychically unsatisfying pursuit of material comfort," represent canned thinking. They are jingoistic and essentially without meaning. They are popular, "in," and vacuous. In point of fact, the early communists invented jargon like that, but they had coldly pragmatic reasons for doing so. You don't.

Let me tell you the truth about materialism in my generation: it may come as an awful shock to you, but in the sense that you use the word, it doesn't exist. To the extent that your generation is really taken in by that "heard" reaction. It is simply being conned. Permit me to move from the general to the particular to point out this peculiar blind spot you and your generation have. Bear in mind that I am directing your attention to many millions of my generation — not all, but most.

After World War II, Joe Smith had a wife, a few dollars and he had to do something, that is, he had to make a living. That point will come in the life of each and every one of your non-materialistic generation. I await it with some pleasure because I want to see how many of you think it will go away if you don't look it in the face. America's affluence, however impressive it seems, is not up to sustaining a whole generation of indigents.

ANYHOW, HE rented one tiny office in a very old building. There was room for one very old desk, a chair, a filing cabinet, another chair and typing table for his wife and one used typewriter. (Hold on now, Horatio Alger is not coming up.) Then he had some cards printed which said "Smith Insurance Co.," and he started walking up and down the street on the soles of his shoes, dropping into the businesses along Higgins Avenue saying, "My name is Smith; here is my card. If you need some insurance some time I hope you will call me."

Then he went around to a young contractor who had a tractor, a backhoe and a few tools and who was trying to build some houses and said, "Why don't you bid on some city or county or state buildings and I will write your bond." Then he went back to his office and said to the fellows at the bonding company, "Now, I am going to write bonds for these fellows. They are the younger generation of contractors and, by God, you WILL bond them." And the bonding company did.

And in between, Joe Smith walked up and down the streets on the soles of his shoes and sold insurance, and his wife kept policy numbers and renewal dates in a plastic-covered book with green tabs. For quite a long time there were very few tabs.

NOW IT IS TRUE that this man wanted a house, a car, a refrigerator and things. Cavemen also wanted caves.

But that was not really why he was walking up and down the street on the soles of his shoes. Was it, then, because he loved insurance? No. Insurance policies are quite dull to read. He was doing it because he had to make a living, indeed. But the real reason is what I think you don't understand.

Men have always engaged with other men, largely to understand themselves. They compete and gamble to see where they can go. They have to test themselves, to find things out about themselves. When they seem most to be looking outward, they are mostly looking inward.

When this man walked on the soles of his shoes up and down the street, is it really your view that he (and the millions of his kind) was engaged in the "psychically unsatisfying pursuit of material comfort?" Do you really think that all he (or they) was after were cars, refrigerators, houses? If so, how grossly you underestimate him (and them)!

What they were after was the measure of themselves. By gambling, by risking, by thinking.

WHAT THEY REALLY wanted to know was this: How far along the dream of what I might be can I really go? What can I build from nothing? How good am I? How will I act when I fail? Can I pit myself against those already controlling the bonding business (the older generation) and win? All on my own, out of what I am, can I make something work? If it works, is it worth it? Who, after all, am I? The only way to find out is to do these things and push myself. The only way to find out is to engage life on some level, any level, head on.

My father, a lawyer, put it another way when I asked him once how he had set his fees. He said, "Oh, you don't go about it backwards. You take the case if you like it. If it tests you. You test the odds and you go or you don't go. If you go, you go with everything you have and everything you are." I can remember saying (I was a freshman in law school), "Yes, but about the fees?" And he said (and he was surprised), "Oh, well, you don't worry about that. The money comes if you are good." It was that simple.

Now it is true that the by-product of what Joe Smith was really after was a very nice house on a hill, a cabin on a lake, a speedboat, two cars and a building on Main Street. My generation was very successful, so there IS affluence. What your generation fails to understand is that these things were by-products. Beyond sufficiency, they never mattered at all. Very, very few Americans sought things as things. It is YOU who are conscious of the things as things. You, via this consciousness, are the materialists.

SO YOU SEE, when you say that we spent our lives "in the psychically unsatisfying pursuit of comforts," you have misread everything that we were and are and did. And then, having said it, you wonder why we react with hostility!

I suppose that my own reaction to it is more one of wonderment, that you could have eyes and not see, ears and not hear and brains and not use them. Eyes, ears and brains, however, all added together don't spell "perception." And maybe my principle wonderment lies in the fact that too many of your generation lack perception — and, lacking it, the shallows may be waiting.

I think I will give short shrift to your generation's statements about the impending death of formalized religion. Your generation seems to me to be coming up with a sufficiency of gurus contemplating their navels. As for cybernated technology, if it does not pose a wonderful and fulfilling challenge for people your age, it will eat you up.

I should think you would tackle its challenge with joy because it can be your servant, not your master. I do not understand why so many of your generation are so afraid of it. But I think you fear of it goes back to your failure to understand "materialism." You say you are concerned about the "headlong rush toward greater affluence through technology." But neither technology nor affluence stand apart (except in your mind) from the deeper endeavors of man (which are vital to his spirit) which I have briefly described above. Again, they are by-products of that endeavor. You do not seem to understand that.

Drugs: Well, I am not hysterical about them. It simply remains a cold fact that a disproportionately large percentage of your generation is simply begging out before they come to grips with things like walking up and down the streets on the soles of their shoes. It is at least tenable to propose that they lack courage and that bodes ill for a great country. Your generation likes to equate your use of drugs with our use of booze.

There are, by HEW count, six million alcoholics in America; far too large a percentage of your generation are on "hard drugs." The difference has gone beyond degree and has slipped over into a difference of kind. Any given man has to find himself — or try. It does not take a pharmacist to tell you that no man will find himself in a bottle or a needle or a pill.

POLLUTION: A couple of months ago I spoke from the back end of a pickup truck at a pulp plant to a crowd of about 300 people. The plant kept loudly blowing off steam and racing truck engines. That's fair enough. What struck me was that I don't think I saw a single person under 30 in that audience. I have made speeches all over Montana (and written articles) in the past three years about pollution. I never did see any of the "younger generation." Why is that? Obviously, you're going to get on the bandwagon now. We have already been there for a long time.

Environmental degradation in this country, in an acute form, dates to about 1870. It is, in other words, an old, cumulative problem. But my generation was the first to make a frontal attack on it, not yours. Welcome aboard, but let's keep the perspective straight on who did what and when.

You say that you face "floods of problems . . . that my generation never had to think about" . . . the bomb, cybernetics, etc. That is not only presumptuous (because you haven't the remotest idea of what problems we faced), but it happens also to be untrue. The problems one faces (the real ones, I mean, not the jargon ones) always come from inside oneself — not outside. Sure, one's environment may touch them off, but the times are very secondary — always have been. Are now.

YOUR GENERATION seems to think that my generation grew up in some sublimely rural, pastoral age and ours was an age of quiet little villages and pastures. Let's use Joe Smith again.

One day, when Joe Smith was your age, he found himself lying with half his face in a mud puddle. He was aware that there was a skiff of ice on the dirty water. And he couldn't make himself move. What he really wanted to do was die, but circumstances wouldn't oblige him. He had troops to lead, but he just lay there. He thought, "They will court-martial me and imprison me for the rest of my life. But that is infinitely better than moving." And he lay in the freezing mud puddle for quite a long time and quit.

His soul froze up — and his spirit had withered a long time ago, anyway. And after a little while he got up and went off and did what he had to do. And they never did oblige him by killing him — even in a quiet pasture, even in the streets of silent little villages.

I did not believe in God when I was your age, but I threw rocks at him, literally. I had a very good throwing arm. There seemed, in a peculiar way, an off chance that I might bloody God's nose for putting me on this earth. I was 20 — and it was a lousy, rotten, cruel, glutinous world. I had, it is true, the choice of removing myself from it. But I didn't. I only threw rocks at a God I didn't believe in anyway. And where did I get the rocks? You're right. From a quiet pasture. Incidentally, I didn't hit Him.

WHEN WE WERE your age, you somehow think we had verities — or thought we had. We neither had them nor thought we had them. Values were like sand beneath our feet. Mostly, I think we just tried to keep from sinking.

So your generation faces a flood of problems we never even had to think about? No! You face the identical problems we did. You think Vietnam, the bomb, pollution, etc., constitute your problems? They are external. They are just what the world has always been. You think they are unique? They are merely another face of the same million-faceted face that has always been staring at one utterly naked man. HE is your problem. You.

So my generation doesn't understand you. Too many of your generation insist that we should understand you before you have really bothered trying to understand yourselves — which, in turn, is why we don't understand you.

As for the "soothing escapism" of my generation, how old were the people in Haight-Ashbury? How old are the people in the drop-out cells all over America? We have (my generation) quite a few dropouts on various skid rows. How about yours? Seems to me a very large number of yours have copped out before they even tried to do anything to fix it.

They fell down before the wind blew.

THEY SAY THEY simply won't live by our values, they won't play our game, they won't participate in our rottenness. That's what they say. But they are not really running from us, from our values, from our society at all. That is just the rationale they give for flight. What they are running from is themselves. Indeed, I wish they were running from us, from society, from "materialism" — because that would, at least, make the flight real and it would probably even make it courageous.

Alas, they take with them into the commune every nightmare they fled — plus one — the fact of their fleeing. And, still, they will have to walk up and down the paths of the commune on the soles of their sandals and, in the end face the same thing every man has had to face — and then, after all that running! Running away from, not toward, themselves. And the beads won't help, and the pot won't help, and the needle won't help, and the gurus won't help, nor even the hair and the beards. They are to hid behind. But where is the hole in which you can hide from yourself? Is that what the guru seeks in his navel?

Very probably, you and I would understand each other if we simply tended to the vigorous business of being ourselves — and not what somebody else says we are, or what we think we somehow ought to be.

Plus, of course, one more terribly important thing. Understanding has tremendous weaknesses which love does not.

So, if you finally despair of understanding, I would adjure you to love and be loved — and let understanding wait. If it comes, fine. If it doesn't, then hope that we can bring ourselves to be ourselves. That way, clear eyes, across an old table, we may one day come to love each other.

Re Boston letter to the Bureau, 1/19/70.

I. Potential Counterintelligence Action

The WSA Faction of SDS Headquarters at Boston recently traveled to New Haven, Connecticut to take part in the demonstration over the weekend on 5/1 - 3/70. This being the rally in defense of the Black Panther defendants on trial in New Haven. It has come to the attention of the Boston Division that the bus lines which were used to transport WSA members to New Haven, are owned and operated by Carroll Bus Lines of Boston, Mass., a non-union bus line. This being contrary to WSA doctrine of being pro-worker. The Boston Division is attempting to develop a counterintelligence suggestion to submit to the Bureau along the line of embarrassing the WSA Faction for their indiscreet use of a non-union company.

II. Pending Counterintelligence Action

The Boston Division, by letter dated 3/25/70, entitled "██████████ SDS-SM; OO:Boston, Boston file 100-4██████████," advised that the Boston Division alerted the Cambridge Police Department to the fact that ██████████ had been apprehended by Boston Police Department on local charges, and his photograph matched an earlier photograph furnished to the Cambridge Police Department by the Boston Division. This latter photograph being identical to an individual being sought on a JOHN DOE warrant out of Cambridge, for his involvement in the attack on the Center for International Affairs, (CFIA), Harvard University, 9/25/69.

On 5/1/70, [REDACTED] advised that [REDACTED] was found guilty on 3 separate charges for his involvement at CFIA, and was subsequently sentenced to 2 1/2 years in the House of Correction at Millcrica, Mass. The 3 separate sentences were given on an "On and After" basis, which means [REDACTED] must serve the full 2 1/2 year sentence as opposed to serving 3 concurrent sentences.

No other counterintelligence action is pending in the Boston Division at this time.

III. Tangible Results

Since the submission of the last quarterly letter, Boston has accomplished the following:

A. Information was furnished to the Cambridge Police Department relative to the location of Weathermen Collective in their city, which subsequently resulted in the eviction from 2 locations of Weathermen individuals.

B. Photographs were taken of the inside of one collective, at 509 Franklin St., Cambridge, Mass., by agent personnel of the Boston Division. These graphic photos, with Bureau permission, were subsequently given to [REDACTED] a source of information with the Boston Division, who then turned these photographs over to the Boston daily Globe, a newspaper printed and published in the Greater Boston area, which circulates throughout New England. These photographs were printed in 2 separate editions of the Globe, one of which gave front page coverage to the story.

IV. Miscellaneous

Boston will remain alert to any possible counterintelligence suggestions which can be forwarded to the Bureau in connection with New Left activities in the Boston area.

Re San Diego letter to Bureau 2/4/70.

A. POTENTIAL COUNTERINTELLIGENCE ACTION

The Bureau has been advised by separate communication that counterintelligence action in San Diego will be considered against the People's Commune located in the 3200 block of Second and Third Avenue. It is noted that [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] are residents of this commune. San Diego will consider counterintelligence actions against other groups noted in referenced letter.

It is noted that persons unknown continue to take considerable action, sometimes violent, against these various groups and San Diego is continuing to follow this situation for counterintelligence action when it is needed. The most recent action taken against one of these groups was on 4/29/70, when a person or persons unknown drove by the Movement for a Democratic Military (MDM) office at 519 Freeman Street, Oceanside, California, and fired eleven shots from what is believed to be a .45 caliber machine gun. The shots appear to have been fired from a moving vehicle and penetrated the front of the building injuring one individual who was found to be a deserter from the Marine Corps.

B. PENDING COUNTERINTELLIGENCE ACTION

San Diego does not plan to implement counterintelligence action in the immediate future while violent harassment of these groups continues by unidentified persons. San Diego will carefully watch the situation and will make recommendations by separate letter for counterintelligence action when deemed appropriate.

Re Bureau letter to Albany 5-10-69 and Omaha letter to Bureau 12-31-69.

The only chapter of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) that was still in existence was at the University of Iowa, Iowa City. In March, 1970, this chapter was placed on University probation for the remainder of the current school year and for the academic year 1970-71. At that time also two students at that school were suspended and three others placed on probation for their actions in an SDS sponsored protest 12-10-69. The other five formerly existing chapters of the SDS have been totally inactive since last fall. There have been other student groups on college campuses in the Omaha Division that have from time to time participated in issues concerning local matters or national issues such as the Vietnam Moratorium. These groups are not organized to effect large numbers of students on any particular campus. There have been no violent demonstrations on campuses in the Omaha Division since the start of the current school year last fall.

Omaha will continue to remain alert to the possibility of actions in this program in the future.

Reurlet 4/2/70.

While it is agreed that the proposal as set forth in relet has merit and could possibly result in the expulsion of [REDACTED] from the Progressive Labor Party (PLP), it is not felt that the letter transmitting the diary should be worded in such a way as to indicate that it is coming from a committee to oust misleaders. The reason for this is the fact that the PLP is a relatively small closely knit organization, and it would seem almost impossible for a committee to exist without the leaders having knowledge of it almost the moment it was organized. For this reason, it is felt that introduction of the diary to the leadership of PLP should come about through some other means, possibly an anonymous note from a disinterested party who found it, recognized what it was, and even called one of the numbers discovering that it was an Army security agency. This is only a suggestion, and others more appropriate may be available to you. You should reconsider this matter and furnish the Bureau additional comments in this regard.

The question of making the proper forged entries in the diary has been discussed with the Document Section of the Laboratory. These forgeries can be made without posing particular problems. The making of these entries is being held in abeyance, however, pending your comments as noted above. At that time, the diary will be altered and returned to you with proper authorization to carry forward this technique.

Your consideration of this program is appreciated, and you should continue to give it your close attention.

NOTE:

[REDACTED] is a member of the Executive Committee of the Los Angeles branch of the PLP. Los Angeles has come into possession of a diary belonging to [REDACTED]. By relet it was suggested that the Laboratory make forged entries in this diary. These would be phone numbers at Army and Secret Service, which when called would identify the agencies. Other notations would be made to indicate that [REDACTED] has been furnishing information to these agencies. He would thusly be branded as an informant. Los Angeles suggested that this altered diary be sent to [REDACTED] the national chairman of the PLP, with an anonymous note indicating that an unofficial committee had been organized in Los Angeles to investigate traitors in PLP ranks, and that the committee had discovered this document. The Document Section of the Laboratory has advised that these forged entries may be made.

The following is being submitted for your approval prior to a counterintelligence program against [redacted] (Bufile 100-444083, Los Angeles file 100-69259), a member of the Executive Committee of the Los Angeles Progressive Labor Party.

The enclosed diary was acquired in June 1968 [redacted]

For the information of the Bureau, [redacted] has never been interviewed locally by the FBI, and neither he or anyone else knows that his 1967 diary is in the hands of the FBI.

It is the plan of the Los Angeles Office to send this diary to [redacted] National Chairman of the Progressive Labor Party (PLP) along with the enclosed letter. In addition, a copy of the letter will be sent to [redacted] the San Francisco PLP organization.

The Los Angeles Office requests that if this counterintelligence program is approved, the following additions be made by the FBI Laboratory:

1. Date of April 26...after the information regarding the moving, add Call Col. Patch (ASA). 263-6975, by 1700, new address
2. May 28... after Party Class add... complete membership-Patch
3. Date of June 22...after LBJ Meet add... call Patch and SS(688-4830)

For the information of the Bureau, if one calls 263-6975 he is calling Army Security Agency, and the phone is answered, "309th, Mr. _____". If a call is made to 688-4830 the caller reaches United States Secret Service, Los Angeles.

It is expected that as a result of this diary and the letter to the PLP leaders and members, [REDACTED] will be completely discredited and ousted by the PLP. In addition, the organization itself will suffer because there will then be a feeling of doubt concerning not only individual members, but especially the leadership of the PLP.

If a call is made to 263-6975, and the caller is told that there is no Colonel Patch, no harm will be done because the PLP member will merely know that the number is for the Army, and there is no Colonel Patch because the "establishment" does not want anyone who inquires to know that there actually is such a person.

An effort will be made to give PLP leaders the impression that a secret committee to oust mis-leaders has been formed among the rank and file. By submitting the letter and diary it is felt that such impressions will be created.

The following letter will be sent to PLP Leaders and select PLP members:

Because of the widespread dissatisfaction with the Executive Committee of the PLP in Los Angeles, dissident members were forced to form their own committee. After many efforts to achieve corrections on a local level we received nothing but lies, accusations, abuse, and a complete disregard by the local leaders. These LEADERS (????) attempted to remain in power positions by tactics which have completely destroyed the process of democratic centralism and resulted in the destruction of the base building.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED ????

Local misleaders have isolated and divided individual clubs and members to hide their own actions.

LA 100-71737

We put our heads together to search for the reasons for the actions of the misleaders and we have uncovered a Judas in our midst..... We came across a diary which was examined and which explains why [redacted] and his fellow misleaders have acted in a counter revolutionary manner. This diary shows clearly that [redacted] has been in touch with one Colonel PATCH...we even called the telephone number for this servant of the establishment and the number turned out to be for the U.S. ARMY. Another call was made to 688-4830 and we realized then why so many of our members were arrested after the June 23rd demonstration at Century City.

WE DEMAND that [redacted] be confronted with these acts of treachery against the PLP...and WE DEMAND ACTION NOW.

We are sending a copy of this letter to our San Francisco comrades who might have had similar problems with the betrayer [redacted]...and we ask them to think back and try to recall when they were also thrown to the POLICE PIGS by this fink for the PIGS.

Why did [redacted] keep a detailed account of OUR ACTIVITIES....and why does PIG [redacted] use ARMY TIME????

Did [redacted] turn in all of the funds he collected????
...the diary shows to the contrary.

UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION AGAINST THIS RENEGADE PIG
...unless he is purged...our organization will DIE.

Our committee is sending this diary to [redacted] so that he can see it for himself...however, we are keeping a copy of this diary, just to be sure that some action is taken.

The first is captioned, "TWO SUSPECTS IN RAID ON WCAU VISIT CUBA TO HARVEST SUGAR CANE;" the second, "PARENTS GRIEVE FOR 2 SONS LOST TO STUDENT REVOLUTION."

Both articles were stimulated by a reliable relationship which has developed with these reporters.

The thrust of these articles is to inform the reading public of the interlocking nature of the New Left conspiracy and the unhappiness it creates in understandable human terms. It should also be noted the article, which deals with KAREN ACKERMAN, shows her to be the roommate of the current organizational secretary of the Communist Party of Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD) and the same article ties together the SDS Weatherman and the Venceremos Brigade. As originally written, the article, which deals with the Venceremos Brigade, quoted at length from an article in the Philadelphia Free Press written by ROBERT KALLISH, written from Cuba, about the revolutionary intentions of persons in that Brigade.

According to BRUNT and GAUDIOSI, this was edited out against their desires.

It is believed these two articles make a substantial contribution toward a better understanding on the part of the general public of some of the motivations involved in the New Left Movement.

Parents Grieve for 2 Sons Lost to Student Revolution

By BAYARD BRUNT
and ALBERT V. GAUDIOSI
Of The Bulletin Staff

John and Helen Boyce, members of the "silent majority," have lost two of their three sons in the student revolution.

Yesterday they sat in their Nicetown home and wondered how it all happened.

"You tell us," they said. "We don't know. We just don't know anything."

The "lost" sons are Francis J., 20, and John P., 18, graduates of Cardinal Dougherty High School.

A younger brother, James, still at home, is a senior at Dougherty.

Among If Arrested

Francis and John Boyce were among 11 young radicals arrested after they invaded and vandalized the offices of WCAU at City Line and Monument av. Jan. 10.

Since then, John joined the Venceremos Brigada and went to Cuba to cut sugar cane for Fidel Castro.

The parents were unaware that John had gone to Cuba until informed by Bulletin reporters. Tears came to their eyes at the news. The mother was speechless.

"We don't know where either of the boys are," said the father, 30, an electrician.

'Don't Understand'

"We don't understand how this happened. Both boys read a lot, good books, books about religion. They went to church regularly. They went all through parochial school, then Cardinal Dougherty."

On a table near the parents was a double picture frame containing high school graduation photos of Francis and John. The pictures were of two clean-cut, well-groomed young men in white formal jackets.

In front of the photos was a small statue of a pair of hands clasped in prayer, bearing the legend: "The family that prays together, stays together."

Taught in Ghetto

"Our oldest boy left home Oct. 25, two years ago, four days after his 18th birthday. Out he went, just with the clothes on his back. He was a very bright boy, and we hoped he would be a doctor or lawyer.

"His brother walked out last Christmas. We had hoped he would be with us a long time. He's a very sensitive boy, always wanted to help people. It didn't matter if you were white, black or green. He taught in the ghetto, while going to high school. He was interested in civil rights.

"Both of them talked about going to college up to the time they graduated high school, then they weren't interested anymore."

Who Is Pled Piper?

Boyce said he and his wife pray constantly that their youngest son, already accepted at college, will not balk, and follow his brothers. "But we don't know," the father lamented.

"When the other two left, they told us they wanted to get out 'and see things,'" Boyce continued.

The mother, anguish etching her face, interjected: "We didn't want them to leave. We opposed them leaving."

"I wish someone could tell us who is the Pled Piper that led our boys off like this," the father added.

"We've thought and thought until our heads buzz all the time, but we have no answer."

Too Strict?

"We made them comb their hair, wash their face and shine their shoes before they went out. Was this being too strict? Did this alienate them? Why?"

"After they left, we never heard from them. We never knew where they went or what they did."

100-449695 937

ENCLOSURE

"I used to drive around where I thought they might be. They had to congregate somewhere. But I could never see them."

"I don't know how they live. They left practically all of their clothes here. They must need things, I know I need clean underwear every day."

The parents said their sons never caused them any previous problems.

Never Had Problems

"The boys never were discipline problems," the father continued. "They got good marks at school and never stayed out late at night. They didn't use drugs. They had no contact with police. They didn't keep bad company."

"When they were home, they never discussed politics. They had no political heroes. We didn't tell them what to believe. We never told them now we voted. We felt the vote was something sacred."

Mrs. Boyce recalled that while home, the boys let their hair grow "a little long. People told us: 'There's nothing wrong with long hair. They'll outgrow it.'"

The father interrupted: "It wasn't the long hair; it was something else."

Saw Sons on TV

The mother went on: "We found out about the WCAU arrest as we sat right here (restoring to a chair) watching TV. I saw the back of Francis' head, and said to my husband, 'There's Francis.' Then both boys turned around, and we saw their faces as they were placed in a police car."

"I could have fallen over."

The father continued: "They never contacted us after the arrest. The boys called a priest friend, who notified us. We asked the priest if we should put up our house for bail. He advised us not to."

Bail for the Boyce brothers, and most of the other WCAU suspects, was furnished by a professional bondsman from Philadelphia.

Short Visits Home

"I wonder how my sons got the fee?" Boyce asked.

The Montgomery County district attorney's office said the fee was provided by a group of professionals — doctors and lawyers sympathetic to student activists.

The parents said that since their sons' release, they returned home once, on separate occasions, but stayed only ten minutes.

"They came for money," the father said.

"We knew the younger one was going away. We didn't know where. We had no idea it was Cuba. I thought he was going to the West Coast."

"The boys told us what they had done at WCAU was the right thing to have done. But we don't understand."

Not Rejected as Parents

"Our youngest son, who hasn't rejected his brothers, tells us Francis and John still love us as parents. But he says they are doing what they believe, what they think they have to do."

"Our two oldest sons think we're squares and racists. If we were racists, wouldn't we move away from here? This is a split neighborhood."

The parents, native South Philadelphians, have lived in their present home on N. Darven st. near Butler, for 19 years.

"My husband has been a good father," Mrs. Boyce said. "He spent his time with the boys. He didn't drink. When they were younger, we took them to the seashore in the summer. I didn't work. I stayed home and looked after them and the house."

Trips to Shore

The father interjected:

"The biggest thing in our lives was the annual trip to the shore. We took an apartment way back from the beach for about $40 a week and drove to the beach. At nights, we went on the boardwalk, each with $1 to spend. But we had great times. I wouldn't change them for anything in the world."

Then, returning to the current discussion he continued: "Maybe that was all wrong. Perhaps I should have spent my time in taprooms."

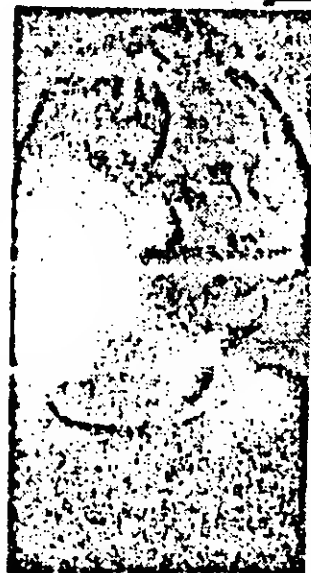

"We were home every night, my wife and I. We sat here, read the paper and watched TV. Our sons didn't want to do that. Five years ago, we wouldn't have dreamed this could happen to us."

Hate Calls Come In

"I just don't understand today's kids ... boys and girls live together and they don't want to get married."

Since the WCAU raid, Boyce continued, the family has had to get an unlisted telephone number because of the volume of hate calls. He concluded:

"I tell the callers: 'You're acting just as bad as the boys you're criticizing.'"

Two Suspects in Raid on WCAU Visit Cuba to Harvest Sugar Cane

By BAYARD BRUNT
and ALBERT V. GAUDIOSI

Two youths arrested in the raid at WCAU studios are now in Cuba harvesting sugar cane for the Castro regime.

They are Robert Kallish, 19, of Pennington road near Malvern av., and John P. Boyce, 18, of Darien st. near Butler.

Kallish and Boyce are members of the Venceremos (We Shall Win) Brigade that left St. John, New Brunswick, Feb. 12, aboard the Cuban cattle boat, Luis Arcos Bergnes.

Other Philadelphia area residents who made the trip are Karen Beth Ackerman, 22, of Harvey st. near Greene, and Marc Fliegelman, 19, of Bennett road near Melion, Wyncote.

Leftist Groups

Miss Ackerman was a roommate at the Harvey st. address of Sondra Patrinos, 23, an official and spokesman for the Communist Party in this area. Fliegelman is the son of Dr. Emmanuel Fliegelman, an osteopathic physician with offices at 5921 Frankford av.

Havana Radio, in a recent broadcast publicizing the Brigade, reported: "The youths

Robert Kallish

Karen Beth Ackerman

represent leftist North American organizations such as Students for a Democratic Society, the Black Panther Party and Mexican and Puerto Rican minority groups."

Kallish and Boyce were among 11 persons who allegedly invaded and damaged the WCAU building at Monument road and City av., Lower Merion Township. The raid reportedly was in protest of a TV special about the Black Panthers.

SDS Leader Killed

Another of those arrested in the foray was Theodore Gold, 23, of New York City, an SDS leader since killed in a dynamite explosion at a Greenwich Village "bomb factory."

The local contingent of cane cutters traveled to Canada on chartered buses that originated in Washington and stopped at Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston.

The Philadelphia stop was in front of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, 9th and Chestnut sts. The group posed as skiers, but no one carried ski equipment.

Boston was the rallying point, where the young men and women regrouped for the final lap into Canada.

Even busloads of cane cutters went through the U. S. checkpoint at Catalis, Me., the night of Feb. 11, and the early hours of the following day.

Visas Issued

The Cuban consulate at Montreal, Canada, reported that 100-449698-937

sued to Kallish, Boyce, Fleigelman and Miss Ackerman on Feb. 12.

That same day, the 1,760-ton Luis Arcos Bergnes arrived at St. John with a group of returning cane cutters from a previous Venceremos Brigade. This group had entered Cuba by air via Mexico City on Nov. 28.

When this group debarked, about 470 members of the second brigade went aboard; the ship, built in 1950, left almost immediately for the five-day trip to Cuba.

St. John, the debarcation port, is about 80 miles from Calais.

U. S. Passports

U. S. and Canadian immigration officials said the second brigade was evenly divided between male and female, with few Negroes among them.

Orville Blondaau, U. S. Immigration Inspector-in-charge at Calais, said practically all the young men and women had U.S. passports, and some carried birth certificates.

He added that 177 members of the returning brigade reentered the U.S. through Calais aboard five chartered buses. Nine others came through in two private autos.

Vernon Barr, Canadian Inspector-in-charge at St. Stephen's, opposite Calais, said the Americans entering Canada were checked individually, "and all said they were going to Cuba." Barr continued:

Some From Phila.

"I recall there were some from Philadelphia. There were a lot from New York, Chicago and Boston. Even some from the West Coast.

"Those aboard the buses made no effort to hide the fact they were going to Cuba. They talked about it freely. There were quite a few girls. Mostly they were white and quite young . . . they wore rough working clothes and seemed in high spirits."

He said that many of the boys were about 17 and 18, and several of these carried letters from parents granting permission for the trip to Canada and Cuba.

"The kids were happy and having a good time," Barr continued. "They were well-behaved and well-spoken. They were good types, with high mental ability. They said they were going to Cuba to be cancutters."

'Brilliant Boy'

Miss Ackerman, whose parents live in Elkins Park, took a liberal arts course at Temple University from 1965 to 1969. On July 30, 1967, she was arrested for violation of the mayor's proclamation.

Miss Patrinos, her roommate at the Harvey st. apartment, refused to discuss Miss Ackerman's present whereabouts.

Dr. Fleigelman told Bulletin reporters he was "aware" his son was in Cuba, but refused further comment.

Boyce's parents, John and Helen Boyce, said they did not know their son was in Cuba.

Kallish's father, Bernard, said he didn't know where his son was. His only other comment was: "Bobby is a brilliant boy. He went through high school in a breeze."

Young Kallish enrolled at Temple University last fall, but withdrew in October.

Last week, an article written by "Bob Kallish" appeared in the Free Press, an underground newspaper. The article, entitled "Report From the First Free Country in America," told of Kallish's trip to Cuba.

Boyce and Kallish were charged with conspiracy, unlawful entry and malicious mischief in connection with the WCAU raid.

Since Kallish was a juvenile at the time, he was referred to Montgomery County juvenile authorities. Last Feb. 18, he failed to appear at a juvenile intake hearing.

Anthony Guarna, chief county probation officer, said the hearing has been postponed indefinitely "because Kallish is in Cuba."

Boyce failed to appear at a grand jury proceeding in Norristown on March 12. He has since been indicted on the aforementioned charges.

Senate Hearings Due

Several weeks ago in a speech on the Senate floor, Sen. James

O. Eastland (D-Miss) charged that the Americans who recently went to Cuba as cane cutters "are being indoctrinated and trained to attack and destroy our institutions and government."

Calling the cane cutters "missiles in human form," Eastland continued: "There is clear and present danger that these militant revolutionaries will return to implement the Communist purpose of causing chaos, confusion and outright revolution."

He added that the Senate's subcommittee on internal security, of which he is chairman, soon will conduct hearings on the matter.

TO : DIRECTOR, FBI (100-449698)

DATE: April 8, 1970

FROM : SAC, SEATTLE (100-29237) (P*)

Reference Seattle letter to Director, 1/7/70.

I. POTENTIAL COUNTERINTELLIGENCE ACTION

During the past three months most "New Left" activity has centered around efforts of a new organization known as the Seattle Liberation Front (SLF). This group first became prominent in the early part of 1970 and is being directed by [REDACTED], and [REDACTED] all of whom have been prominent in SDS activities in New York, particularly in and around Cornell University. These individuals have succeeded in attracting a large number of "street people" and high school age youth to participate in rallies, demonstrations, and other activities which are being promoted by SLF.

Informants report that a majority of the long-time SDS Weatherman members in the Seattle area have had little or no contact with [REDACTED] and the SLF group, and are, in fact, jealous of his recent successes since arrival in Seattle. It is further pointed out that 60 per cent of the known Seattle SDS Weatherman people are either in jail or out on bond in connection with local charges. For that reason they are numerically weak and are experiencing leadership difficulties.

While it is premature at this time to predict the future activities of either group, it would appear logical that the differences between the groups could be utilized in some way in a counterintelligence action. This matter will be closely followed through informants and if it appears logical to capitalize on differences between these two groups the Bureau will be immediately advised of any planned counterintelligence program.

II. PENDING COUNTERINTELLIGENCE ACTION

Re Charlotte letter to Director 1/5/70.

1. Potential Counterintelligence Action

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED] Duke University, Durham, N. C., has expressed interest in knowing identities of New Leftists who obtain employment at Duke University and Duke University Hospital, indicating he could make arrangements to have them discharged. This possibility will be considered in future investigations.

2. Pending Counterintelligence Action

The Bureau presently has under consideration authorizing furnishing information regarding new left activities of [REDACTED] SI Subject, to the Board of Education of Northampton County, N. C., which employs [REDACTED] a teacher. The Charlotte Office is forwarding to the Bureau additional information concerning a source at the Board of Education and availability of public source material so that a decision can be made as to whether the information should be furnished through the source or through an anonymous communication.

3. Tangible Results

As reported in referenced letter, New Leftist [REDACTED] has been employed at the University of North Carolina (UNC), Chapel Hill, N. C., and been receiving $2,520 (tax exempt) per year, while in graduate school, which has been paid with Federal funds received from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). An LHM was submitted for dissemination to NASA,

In January, and February, 1970, copies of documents relating to the New Left racial and extremist groups violence and respect for law and order as prepared by the Bureau were distributed to established sources in the administrations at Chico State College, University of California at Davis, College of Sequoias, Fresno State College, Fresno City College, Sacramento City College, University of Pacific at Stockton and American River College, Sacramento. The purpose in distributing the literature was to give the colleges and the university administration a true clear-cut picture of student New Left and racial activities throughout the country. It also gave them a picture of what they might expect on their own campuses.

In March, 1970, copies of the pamphlet entitled "The SDS and the High Schools, A Study in Student

It was suggested to the school administrators that they furnish copies of the pamphlet to the principals of each high school and junior high school in their district. A total of 80 copies were furnished and additional copies have been ordered from the Bureau for additional distribution.

IV. Miscellaneous

The only New Left group currently active within the Sacramento Division is the SDS, PLP-WSA faction at University of California at Davis and Fresno State College.

SC 100-1099

At both institutions the SDS lacks leadership, finances, and a sufficient following to institute any program of significance. Both chapters are experiencing factionalism within their ranks to the extent that routine meetings are had infrequent with not more than six to ten students present for any one meeting.

In general the SDS Chapters on both campuses are ignored by the Student Body and by the nonacademic employees. As long as they remain innocuous, it is difficult to have an effective counterintelligence action program.

Continuing attention is being given to this matter, and when a desirable plan which will serve a useful purpose is devised, Bureau authority will be requested to institute it.

Re Norfolk letter to Bureau, 12/31/69.

I. POTENTIAL COUNTER INTELLIGENCE ACTION

The Unitarian Church Center of Norfolk has been the center of anti-war, anti-military, and anti-draft activity in the Norfolk area. [REDACTED] has been identified prominently in connection with this activity.

The files of the Albuquerque, New Mexico, and Chicago Offices contained no unfavorable information identifiable with Rev. [REDACTED]

Although the opportunity for a counter intelligence operation against the Unitarian Church Center of Norfolk through [REDACTED] has been lessened considerably, there still exists a possibility of making the Unitarian Church Center a target of another type of counter intelligence action.

The Emerson Forum reportedly is a Unitarian Church related student group at Old Dominion University (ODU) which meets on the ODU campus. Other church related organizations do not hold their meetings on the campus. The other groups maintain their own student centers where they hold their gatherings for the benefit of their group.

An anonymous letter will be submitted for approval pointing out that such an arrangement exists. The Emerson Forum makes a habit of inviting militant and New Left activist type individuals to speak and to sound off.

If the ODU authorities see fit to change their policy, this should make it more difficult for militants and similar types to have a convenient place to preach their anarchy.

Re Buffalo let dated 2/18/70 and Bureau let dated 3/3/70.

Buffalo, through established sources has obtained a list of names and addresses of individuals, some of whom are members and sympathizers of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) in the Buffalo area.

During the period 2/25 through 3/20/70, students at the State University of New York at Buffalo (SUNYAB) conducted a strike against the university. As a result of this strike, activity, some students, faculty members, and non-students have been arrested for participation in various activities of an illegal nature.

One of these individuals arrested was [REDACTED] recognized leader of the Buffalo, Youth Against War and Fascism (YAWF). During this strike period [REDACTED] local SDS leader was not openly involved nor did he come to the attention of local police. The sources advised that [REDACTED] is more than disenchanted by [REDACTED] lack of involvement in the student strike.

In view of the reported animosity existing between [REDACTED] and [REDACTED], it is requested Bureau authorization be granted to disseminate the original proposed letter previously submitted to the Bureau. It is believed that this is the opportune time for the authorization of this proposal to effectively bring about a further wedge between YAWF and SDS in the Buffalo area.

This letter would be in the form of an anonymous letter mailed to individuals whose names and addresses appeared on the aforementioned SDS letter. No action will be taken by Buffalo pending Bureau authorization.

By re Memphis letter, Memphis pointed out a situation which could possibly be exploited concerning movement groups relative to those groups which claim exemption with the meaning of Section 501 (c) (3) of U. S. Internal Revenue Code, 1954, as a charitable, scientific or educational organization. Generally speaking, IRS will exclude or deny any groups from receiving such exemption if they are involved in "political activities" or efforts to influence legislation.

As the Bureau is aware, the now defunct Southern Students Organizing Committee (SSOC), Bufile 100-442367, was denied by IRS their tax exempt status, which, of course, meant that the organization would have to pay taxes on all its income and none of the persons, organizations or foundations which contributed to SSOC could deduct their contributions to SSOC from their respective income tax payments.

The Memphis Division just came into possession of a letter dated 1/24/70 under the letterhead of the U. S. Servicemen's Fund, 430 West 250th Street, Riverdale, New York, and P. O. Box 3061, Oakland, California, requesting support for that group. The bottom of the letter indicated that contributions to the U. S. Servicemen's Fund are deductible for income tax purposes.

A copy of this letter is attached hereto.

It is suggested that the Bureau give consideration to referring this matter to IRS concerning the U. S. Servicemen's Fund so that IRS could make determination whether or not this group has been involved in political activities or in efforts

Dear Friends,

The Nixon Administration is escalating its efforts to intimidate and silence the anti-war movement. The pattern of repression, consistent with the Nixon-Mitchell program to silence the majority, has emerged as State, Federal, and Military authorities have moved to close down the anti-war GI coffeehouses.

On November 20, 1969, the Armed Forces Disciplinary Control Board initiated proceedings to place the Shelter Half Coffeehouse in Tacoma, Washington, "off limits" to military personnel. The Shelter Half, which is staffed by civilians and GI's from Ft. Lewis, is a meeting place for anti-war GI's.

The board took this action after "receiving information which indicated that the Shelter Half Coffeehouse is a source of dissident counseling and literature and other activity inimical to good morale, order and discipline within the Armed Services." It has ordered the Shelter Half staff to appear before it on January 22 for a pro-forma hearing "to show cause why it should not be placed Off Limits".

On January 13, four civilian staff members of the UFO Coffeehouse, adjoining Ft. Jackson in Columbia, South Carolina, were arrested and indicted on eight counts for operating a public nuisance. Two days later a South Carolina judge issued a temporary restraining order against the UFO. The order contends that the UFO is "detrimental to the peace, happiness, lives, safety and good morals of the people of the State of South Carolina," and that it possesses and distributes certain written materials to encourage soldiers to refuse to obey certain orders of their superior officers and to encourage young men to avoid and refuse to fight for their country." The UFO's door was padlocked and its staff members each face ten years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The November 15th Mobilization in Washington, D.C., was led by over 200 active duty GI's. It is the GI's who are in the forefront of the anti-war movement. We urge civilians to support our GI's in their fight against repression by writing letters opposing the closing of the UFO and the order to place the Shelter Half Off Limits to:

Hon. Stanley Resor
Secretary of the Army
Department of the Army
Washington, D.C.

And by sending copies to your congressman and senator, and one to us, and by sending checks payable to the "Attorney General's Favorite Defense Committee" to the New York address on this letterhead.

Yours in Peace,

Reurlet 3/11/70.

The suggestion set forth in referenced letter concerning the preparation and mailing of a letter critical of SMC leadership would appear to have some merit since it might tend to drive a wedge between the main factions contending for leadership in SMC.

While referenced letter gives the basic context of the proposed letter, it does not set out the letter as it would be sent. Your proposed letter should be prepared and submitted for Bureau approval.

It is agreed that additional credence will be given to the letter if it is written on SMC stationery. Prior to obtaining this material, it is desired that WFO advise as to the source that would be used to obtain the stationery and mailing list. This should be carefully considered to preclude the possibility of future embarrassment to the Bureau.

NOTE: A dispute has arisen within the SMC as a result of student dissatisfaction with the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) control of its leadership. WFO has suggested that it obtain, through sources, SMC stationery and prepare a letter attacking the SMC national and regional leadership for the way it dominates college students within its membership. WFO requested Bureau and New York comments. As this may be effective in driving a wedge between the YSA and the student factions in SMC, it should be given further consideration consistent with the need for absolute anonymity as far as the Bureau is concerned.

NOTE:

By relet Los Angeles submitted copies of numerous press clippings concerning the recent controversy surrounding Angela Davis, a Communist Party (CP) member in California who is an instructor at the University of California at Los Angeles. Los Angeles suggested that this material be sent to school officials and known anticommunists in the area where Davis is scheduled to speak in order to arouse public sentiment against her. The Davis incident has already received sufficient publicity in the California area to arouse public sentiment.

DATE: 3/16/70

Enclosed for the Bureau are copies of the news articles which will be prepared and held for future use when it is determined that ANGELA YVONNE DAVIS plans to speak.

For the information of the Bureau, one of the Security Index subjects of this office who has caused the most furor among both members of the Communist Party (CP) and young members of the "New Left," has been ANGELA DAVIS (Bufile 100-439922, Los Angeles file 157-2325).

ANGELA DAVIS arrived on the local scene by way of San Diego, California, where she was a pupil of [REDACTED] self-styled "father of the New Left." DAVIS was hired by [REDACTED] University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA) and is presently teaching in the Philosophy Department at UCLA.

In addition, DAVIS is making frequent appearances on the campuses of California schools, and as recently as 2/5/70, appearing on the campus of the University of California at Santa Barbara (UCSB) she stated "the only thing to do is overthrow this government. I'm not supposed to say that, but I'll say it anyway...overthrow the government." DAVIS repeated this three times for emphasis.

Recently, and with little information beforehand, it was determined that DAVIS was to appear on the campus of Mt. San Antonio College, Walnut, California, on 3/10/70. It was also determined that a large segment of the school students and those in the surrounding neighborhood, including businessmen, were against the appearance of DAVIS. An ANGELA DAVIS "kit," which contained only news articles concerning DAVIS were sent to various school officials and known anti-communists in the area. Special attention was given to those who were supporting petitions calling for the recall of [redacted] and [redacted] (Bufile 100-160570, Los Angeles file 100-377467, who have rendered favorable decisions for DAVIS and others. Copies of this "kit" were mailed anonymously to these persons, and it is believed helped to cause the entire program being cancelled at Mt. SAC. DAVIS appeared in spite of the ban, but her audience was small and the fact that she appeared after being banned from the campus has caused much confusion, including a desire on the part of some to prosecute her for trespassing.

The Bureau is requested to grant authority for the future use of these news articles. They will be mailed on a strictly select basis, mailed anonymously, and will not be connected in any way with the FBI.

Angela Davis Raps Address by Nixon

Angela Davis, UCLA assistant professor whose self-confessed membership in the Communist Party has made her a cause célèbre, this afternoon made a half-hour speech in UCSB's Campus Field that ranged from ridiculing the speech made last night by President Nixon to a call to "bring the fight for freedom into the streets."

Miss Davis, wearing a mini-skirt and her hair in Afro fashion, spoke as members of the Black Student Union stood guard throughout the stadium and checked those entering all the gates. Many carried walkie-talkies.

At first, a BSU leader said photographs and tapes would be prohibited, but the ban was lifted after Miss Davis' arrival.

FEARED FIGHT

She said the Los Angeles judge who ruled that her dismissal by the University Regents was unconstitutional did so quickly because he feared the fight might go into the streets. Miss Davis said those interested in freedom must go into the streets to make known their determination to fight against inequality.

"As a Communist, I cannot be a pacifist," Miss Davis said. "I must assert the right of the people to defend themselves in the streets against the violence of the enemy."

She said the source of violence in any revolution is always those in power.

OVERTLY RESIST

"Fascism is right around the corner," she said, "and we must overtly resist."

Miss Davis said the persecution of black power leaders must end and said the gagging and shackling of Bobby Seale in a Chicago courtroom "is symbolic of the return to slavery." She branded President Nixon's speech last night as "stupid," and ridiculed his statement concerning "the secret timetable" for troop removals.

She said that Nixon did say something truthful, however, when he stated that the Viet Cong could not defeat or humiliate the United States, and that such would be done only by protesters here at home.

END GENOCIDE

"It is our responsibility to humiliate the United States and end the genocide in Vietnam," she stated.

Although the appearance of Miss Davis was jointly sponsored by the Associated Students, the Committee on Arts and Lectures and the Black Students Union, a special section of the grandstand was reserved only for members of the BSU. Others were asked to move elsewhere.

Miss Davis attracted more listeners than Sargent Shriver, the U.S. ambassador to France, who spoke at the same stadium last week. Classes were dismissed for Shriver's talk, but there was no recess granted for Miss Davis' appearance. It is estimated that between 3,000 and 4,000 were in attendance.

ENCLOSURE

Angela assails Nixon, Reagan, Regents

By CINDY HEATON

Before an estimated audience of 5,000 in Campus Field yesterday, Angela Davis, UCLA associate professor, emphasized the necessity of uniting the struggle for academic freedom with the struggle for civil freedom.

Miss Davis, whose teaching position is under attack by the Regents because of her membership in the Communist Party and the Che Lumumba Club (a militant black collective) asserted that those who support academic freedom while ignoring the struggle for concrete freedom in the real world are ivory-tower intellectuals.

"Academic freedom," said Miss Davis, "is irrelevant if it does not enable us to continue to expose those who perpetrate human misery for their own good."

True education, she implied, is a liberating process and this is one of the reasons that minority studies departments have been so strongly opposed. "They (administrators) realized," Miss Davis declared, "that through black studies and chicano studies the liberating force of education might become evident."

Regarding her own case, the young philosophy instructor expressed the belief that any professor who feels that society must be critically examined will face similar consequences.

"My own case," said Miss Davis, "is insignificant when viewed in the context of the greater brutality inflicted on my brothers and sisters here and abroad. I will continue to maintain," she added, "that if my job prevents me from waging a struggle against their greater brutalities then I have to say, later for my job."

She added that a court victory does not represent a victory in the real world unless it is supported by the people and that a court victory should encourage people to fight to support that court's ruling.

Regarding Vietnam, Miss Davis attacked the statement made Monday night by President Nixon as a "stupid, insipid reiteration of policy... His whole approach," she declared, "is the pinnacle of irrationality. For all we know his secret time-table could last for fifty years."

In concluding her address, Miss Davis declared that the three R's, reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic will be relevant only after three other R's, Reagan, Rafferty and the Regents have been eliminated.

Angela Davis Speaks To Capacity Audience

By BILL SEAWELL and LYNETTE WILKERSON
C.T. Staff Writers

More than rain drops fell on the campus yesterday when Angela Davis, the black controversial UCLA professor, spoke to more than 200 students.

Some weighty ideas on the repression in this country poured into a filled science-building lecture room as students sat in the aisles and stood along the walls. Miss Davis spoke on the "need to carry the struggle to the streets."

The young philosophy professor, who is a declared member of the Communist Party, was presented by the Black Students Union (BSU) as a part of its observance of San Francisco State Week.

According to Omar Ex, BSU chairman, the week represents the longest observance on a college campus in commemoration of the struggle for black liberation.

"My case is insignificant compared to Bobby Seale's kidnap and chaining in the Chicago courtroom," Miss Davis said, referring to the four-year prison sentence given the Black Panther leader for contempt of court this week during his Chicago conspiracy trial.

"These are times of brutal acts which are commonly becoming the pattern in this country," said Miss Davis.

"My case, in so far as my being fired by the Regents, is insignificant in the framework of the total repression in this country."

Closing the BSU observance today at noon in Sci. 144 will be speaker Nathan Hare, from the Black Studies department at S.F. State.

A spirit had already been sparked in the audience by Eric Priestly, CSLA senior, who preceded Miss Davis on the program.

Before reading poems from his collection of works dedicated to the black struggle, Priestly disclaimed the propriety of the poet label which has been associated with him.

"Go ahead and get mad and prove that you are guilty," he said reading from a poem entitled "Freedom," in which he describes the white man as the lowest creature to set foot on the face of the earth.

Equally moving the audience to hardy applause was Priestley's delivery of "Cheeshe Bird on a Wire" and "God Is the Sun."

In the context of her speech Miss Davis stressed the need to make education relative to the humane world.

"College Times"

College at Los Angeles

"Those who support me solely on the grounds of academic freedom are bourgeois hypocrites who need to come out of those ivory towers," she said. Feeling that President Richard Nixon's address to a "silent majority" about a "secret timetable" was incipid, irrelevant and stupid, she did agree that the Viet Cong cannot humiliate or defeat the American government.

Discussing her victory in the courts she sighted its worthlessness without a victory in the streets. "It's up to the American citizens to take the responsibility to destroy the fascist tactics now in use," she said.

"We must raise the level of political consciousness because there can be no revolution without the majority. The people must get involved and see how they can benefit from it." Demonstrating her point she mentioned a court transcript from the trial of a Mexican-American youth which read: "Mexicans after the age of 16 have the right to act like animals... Maybe Hitler was right, you are lower than animals and have no right to live in this society with human beings."

A "professor at the moment," she identifies with the students who struggle to link education with the needs of the real world. "Why is Black Studies such a threat?" she asked, continuing, "because it can show us how we came to grips with oppression in the past. We can access our successes and failures and better eradicate the problems."

"Black Studies can be liberating. That's why there were job losses and human bodies mutilated," she said. "We must be the toothache of society and, in the quest for making three R's more relevant, we must destroy three more—Reagan, Rafferty and Regents."

She cited the recent Yorty/Bradley mayoralty campaign as an example of raising political awareness among the masses as a basis of change.

As Miss Davis sees it, the American government is heading quickly to fascism, and it is up to the blacks, browns and revolutionary whites, to show the rest of the country that fascism is just around the corner.

1,200 at overflow rally celebrate year of DW

By PHILLIP BONOSKY

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 — An overflow audience of more than 1,200 supporters jammed a Hotel Americana hall here yesterday in a spirited tribute to the Daily World at its first anniversary reception.

Guest of honor was Professor Angela Davis, a philosophy teacher at the University of California at Los Angeles. The Regents are seeking to oust Miss Davis from her post because of her avowed membership in the Communist Party.

Joining her on the platform were Ossie Davis, actor and playwright; Mrs. Grace Mora Newman, peace leader and indepenwar by the Nixon administration against the black people and the war it is waging in Vietnam.

"My struggle," Miss Davis added, "is not to keep my post at UCLA, but to prevent the repressive acts from killing Bobby Seale or Huey Newton. If my jobs stands in the way of that fight, then I must say — later for my job!"

She ridiculed Nixon's assumption that he was speaking for the "silent majority," a lot of "gall." The majority, she asserted, would dent candidate for Congress from the Bronx in the 1968 elections; Rasheed Storey, New York Communist mayoralty candidate in last Tuesday's elections; Jose Stevens, leader of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of New York; Daniel Rubin, organization secretary of the Communist Party, and Sue Devlin, Daily World staff reporter.

Simon W. Gerson, Daily World executive editor, presided.

Nixon denounced

Prof. Davis, in her press conference preceding the meeting as well as at the meeting itself, denounced Nixon's Nov. 3 speech on Vietnam as a "stupid reiteration of false promises," and declared be marching in Washington Saturday, Nov. 15. The majority was there on the picket lines with the GE strikers, she pointed out.

She charged that "terror is increasingly becoming part of the everyday institutions in this society" and as an educator, she felt the urgent need to break down the barriers between the schoolroom and "the street."

"I have declared for the entire world that I am a Communist,"

she said, and denounced attempts to separate her from her students because of her political beliefs.

She emphasized the need of the people to carry their struggles "into the streets," adding, "I think people in the course of struggle will come to the conclusion you can't vote in revolution."

'Threat to 'all Davises'

Ossie Davis, in introducing Angela Davis, declared: "What is aimed at Angela Davis will shortly come to Ossie Davis and to all the other Davises in the country.

"I come to protect and defend the right of the black people of the U.S. to choose its leaders, its teachers, its persons of importance without interference from anyone," he said. "I defend the right of our own people not to be disturbed in our choice of whom we love and do not love. It is that principle I defend before you now."

He denounced the mass communications industry for distorting and mis-reporting the facts of struggle in America. He emphasized the need for the oppressed to gain access to the mass media to present their case to their own people, too often misled by their enemies. He reminded the audience of how the mass media had launched a "massive campaign" to destroy Paul Robeson and W.E.B. DuBois, and how, as Rev. Martin Luther King successfully marshaled the power of the poor, it became necessary for reaction to kill him physically.

"It is to save Angela Davis," he declared, "that we must say loud and clear that we will not stand idly by and watch you destroy her!" He emphasized the importance of reaching the community with the right image of its own leaders, denouncing the present attempt of the mass media to launch a concerted effort to sow confusion and "create an aura around Bobby Seale as of a black savage. It is done with great deliberation," he charged, "by those who are experts."

Zayd Shakur, representing the Black Panther Party, announced that the FBI had "kidnapped" Panther leader Don Cos Friday and extradited him to California on a false charge of illegal possession of weapons. He is being "held for ransom" on exorbitant bail.

Shakur charged that the government was attempting to wipe out the Black Panther party because it militantly defends the rights of the black community and is a true "Marxist-Leninist revolutionary party." He called for demonstrations at coming trials of Black Panther leaders in New York on Nov. 17, and in New Haven, Conn., on Nov. 22.

In their speeches hailing the Daily World, Storey, Stevens and Rubin declared that the paper had played a key role in the struggles for peace, for black liberation, and for the working class as a whole and particularly in Rasheed's campaign for Mayor.

Mrs. Newman declared that "The Daily World respects the intelligence of its readers and is concerned with the truth. It is a revolutionary paper whose purpose it is to awaken the consciousness of the working class by bringing the issues that concern them into the open."

Introduced as one of the youngest members of the Daily World staff, Sue Devlin said she "was proud to be on the staff of the best newspaper in the U.S., the newspaper that writes the real story of U.S.A., 1969, the story of the working people, the poor people, the black and Puerto Rican people, the young people — the great silent American majority that Nixon is always talking about."

The musical program was opened by folk singer Deborah Weinstein; soprano Beatrice Rippe presented several vocal selections, accompanied by pianist Carroll Hollister.

A total of $6,357 was collected for the further work of the Daily World.

500 ATTEND UCSB RALLY

Strike Support Sought

A noon rally urging broader support of an attempt by radicals and minority groups to stage a strike at UCSB attracted about 500, but indications were that the strike was getting little support.

The goal today appeared to be a student voice to the operation of the university, and there was no direct response by the speakers to an announcement last night that disciplinary action has been initiated against Dr. William L. Allen for "unprofessional conduct."

Demonstrations on behalf of Allen, because his contract as assistant professor in anthropology will not be renewed, started a week ago yesterday.

RALLY ENCEE

Castulo De la Rocha, a vice president of Associated Students and a leader of MECHA, a Chicano student group served as master of ceremonies for the rally. He announced at its close that a "gathering" would be held at 3 p.m. at Perfect Park in Isla Vista, at which tired strikers and demonstrators could relax, with food and entertainment.

Allen was in the crowd but did not speak.

Various student leaders urged support of the strike, including members of the Legislative Council, the chairman of the Graduate Students Assn., the student observer at the Academic Senate, the president of the Inter-Fraternity Council, and the chairman of the Community Affairs Board, Kim Bish.

As the rally ended, Bish suggested that those present march on a class being conducted in the South Hall auditorium, by Dr. David Brokensha, chairman of the anthropology department. When they got there, they were frustrated to find not Dr. Brokensha, but a guest lecturer, using the auditorium.

Rally speakers emphasized that minority groups and radical students have been carrying the demonstration struggle alone, and urged the rest of the students to join in. The Radical Union was mentioned as starting and carrying on the demonstrations, assisted by MECHA and the Black Students Union. Speakers said it was not fair for these groups to have to carry the fight alone.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Last night, in a message to the campus community, Dr. A. Russell Buchanan, acting chancellor, announced that he has initiated action against Dr. Allen and forwarded the measure to the Senate Committee on Privilege and Tenure "for appropriate disciplinary action based upon unprofessional conduct."

"Disciplinary action" could be dismissal, suspension or demotion, a UCSB spokesman said.

Dr. Buchanan's message also stated that he is "in the process of appointing members of the faculty and student body to take immediate steps in co-operation with the academic departments to devise ways and means of including undergraduates and graduate students and nontenure faculty members in the evaluations of faculty members and staff, and in changes in the status of faculty members or staff whenever such changes are being considered."

STUDENT DISCIPLINE

Dr. Buchanan also stated that he is taking action to cite for university discipline students who have been in violation of regulations over the past few days.

He appealed to the student body, faculty and staff to maintain order on the campus. He made it clear that off-campus assistance will be sought otherwise.

The strike called by members of the Radical Union on campus, which had little effect yesterday, continued unobserved today by the majority of UCSB students. Campus officials said all classes were proceeding normally.

Backers of the strike received the full support yesterday afternoon of Angela Davis, self-admitted member of the Communist Party and faculty member at UCLA, when she addressed a rally from the steps of Campbell Hall.

She charged that Allen was fired "because he refused to go along with those senile people in the Anthropology Department," and because he has "stood up for oppressed people everywhere."

She said "a general strike is the only thing that can work against imperialism... It is the only weapon for people who have no power."

OVERTHROW

GOVERNMENT

After stating that "the only thing to do is overthrow this government," Miss Davis paused a moment.

"I'm not supposed to say

"Santa Barbara News-Press"
Santa Barbara, Calif

that," she said. "But I'll say it anyway. 'Overthrow this government.'" She repeated it three times for emphasis.

"When people say we are subversive we should say, 'Hell, yes, we're subversive and we will be until we subvert the whole damned system.'"

She said people who call others radical do not know the definition of the word.

"Radical means getting to the root of things . . . and a strike is a radical action," Miss Davis continued. "If we want freedom we have to fight for it. If we want power we have to fight for it."

As she ended her 22-minute talk, Miss Davis quoted an exhortation that she attributed to Lenin. It ended with, "We have to maintain the offensive" to make a revolution successful.

After Miss Davis' speech a rally leader called for another parade of demonstrators throughout the campus.

"We marched yesterday, we will march today and tomorrow and tomorrow . . . every day, until our demands are met," he said. He said the march would end again at the Administration Building "where we will say, 'up against the wall, you—! We want our rights!'"

BONPANE SPEAKS

During the morning rally, which drew little patronage, Blaise Bonpane, UCLA lecturer and Maryknoll priest who served in Guatemala before being expelled by the government for alleged revolutionary activities, answered questions.

Bonpane, who said he supports himself by his lectures since the Maryknoll order "took away the grocery money," said that centuries ago students in universities ejected professors they decided were not qualified to teach them properly.

Asked about the structure of the University of California, Bonpane said a recent study shows that all members of the board of regents are from among the "superrich" and that none of them were found to have the academic qualifications needed for running a university.

STRIKE ENDORSED

El Gaucho, the campus newspaper that has been giving its full support to an open hearing for Dr. Allen, yesterday editorially endorsed the student strike.

"We urge all students to participate in the strike because we feel it is the only avenue left which minimizes the possibility of violence and maximizes the possibility that the issues will be heard," the editorial said.

It stressed that the strike is "a soft one . . . students will not be forcibly prevented from attending classes. Instead, it is hoped, all students will join together to persuade their professors to hold classes off campus."

The editorial concluded, "Our education will continue, and it just may improve, if it's taken off campus, because we will be away from the sterility of classrooms and the irritating symbols of the status quo."

Davis: 'show our strength... overthrow the whole system'

By DENISE KESSLER
Staff Writer

Exposing the link between the repressive measures being used on campus with those used outside in the black and Chicano communities, Angela Davis urged that we close ranks, get together and show our strength against the ruling forces.

Miss Davis addressed a crowd of over 3,000 in front of Campbell Hall Thursday afternoon as part of the activities taking place in support of the student strike on campus.

Stating that the University is "an outmoded feudal institution" and that all the power is at the top in the hands of Reagan and the other Regents, she praised the strike as the only effective weapon people without power have.

Miss Davis showed that the University is only one part of a "whole system of exploitation" which is "holding people down all over the world," and charged that Bill Allen was fired because he was one of the few teachers willing to expose the Imperialist policies which the University supports through its research and other means.

The faculty has the delegated power to oppress students by preventing professors like Allen from teaching and revealing to students what their real interests are, she explained.

However, Angela added that the fact that the Black Panthers in Los Angeles were able to hold off the police who raided their headquarters shows that the potentially destructive power of those who are being exploited can be used in a constructive manner.

"The spirit of the people is greater than the Man's power!" she proclaimed, adding that it should be used as a liberating force.

"We must organize ourselves so that we are able to raise the level of consciousness of all the people so that we can move in a united fashion to overthrow the whole system, to overthrow the government!" she urged.

After a standing ovation to applaud the BSU and MECHIA students who are joining in the strike and other demonstrations on campus, despite a threat which they received from the Administration that their scholarship funds would be cut off if they were found participating, Angela told the crowd to keep on pushing until they have the power to determine their own destinies so that they can build a Prompted by the uninformed, emotional outbursts of a few regents, Chancellor Charles E. Young is establishing a committee which will once again subject Communist Angela Davis to extraordinary employment tests.

The committee will be composed of faculty members and will evaluate Miss Davis' academic performance. It was announced yesterday.

Regent John Canaday requested the evaluation while alleging that Miss Davis has used her position on the faculty to propagandize and thus is not qualified to teach in the University.

However, under normal circumstances, the evaluation of a professor would be done by a person's own department which would alone decide the status of her employment.

And it seems blatantly unfair that Miss Davis is denied this usual procedure because of her Communist Party membership. The philosophy department, according to chairman Donald Kalish, has not discovered any irregularities in her teaching. Kalish also said he has no knowledge of her skipping classes. Of her teaching techniques, he said, "Everyone brings political opinions into the classroom. It is the fine line between proselytizing and educating that the regents can't seem to see."

Miss Davis has allowed free discussions in her class meetings and free choice of term paper topics and has declined to ascertain political party preferences in order to insure a more equitable grading procedure. Although she spends much time alluding to Karl Marx in one of her classes, it is perhaps for the students' best interests since the course is "Dialectical Materialism."

In answer to an article in the Los Angeles Times yesterday stating that "reportedly she has not made progress on her Ph.D. dissertation," Kalish said he believes it is probably false and the department will not ask Miss Davis about her progress until the end of this quarter, as is usual.

Consequently, perhaps the only saving grace of the findings of the committee is that it will be able, in a limited fashion, to vindicate her teaching techniques.

Angela Davis To Speak at Valley College

By CHARLES BEAL
Tribune Staff Writer

WALNUT — Controversial Communist educator Angela Davis of the UCLA Philosophy Department will speak at noon Tuesday at Mt. San Antonio College.

College officials confirmed today that the 24-year-old Negro associate professor will be one of several speakers during "Women's Week" activities sponsored by the MSAC Associated Women's Students (AWS).

Mrs. Kay Ragan, coordinator of student activities, said Miss Davis, whose fight with the Reagan administration for her job at UCLA, is now famous will receive a $100 "honorarium" from AWS coffers as will other women who have been invited as speakers.

These include, she said, State Assemblywoman Yvonne Braithwaite, Mrs. Louise Huff, councilwoman and former mayor of Walnut, Dr. Stella Cable, supervisor of psychological service in the Los Angeles City Schools, Mrs. Verena Simpson, telephone and telegraph executive, and Miss Diane Feeley, head of the "Woman's Liberation Movement" at UCLA.

The ASW Planning Committee, Mrs. Ragan, AWS adviser, said, hopes to have a total of 10 speakers for the week-long event whose theme is "Women In."

The theme, she explained, is centered on the feeling of women who find themselves in all areas of society where the male is the dominating figure.

It is hoped, she said, that campus coeds will be challenged to consider what they believe about their place in the 70s.

Repeated attempts to contact Miss Davis at her home and office today were unsuccessful.

Meanwhile, Miss Davis' address, to be entitled "Women's Liberation, Yesterday, Today

"San Gabriel Valley
Daily Tribune"
West Covina, Calif

Angela Davis—

and Tomorrow," is scheduled at noon Tuesday in the Student Center.

The confirmation that Miss Davis had been accepted as a Women's Week speaker followed a hectic day of meetings on the MSAC campus, culminated by an Administrative Council session headed by Max Bell, assistant to the president and deputy superintendent of the Junior College District.

Before the meeting Bell wired College President Mrs. Marie Mills in Honolulu, Hawaii, where she is attending the annual convention of the American Association of Junior Colleges.

Also attending the convention were college trustees, Fred Harmsen, board president, and trustees Lance Smith and William Temple.

Bell said Monday that Mrs. Mills, upon learning that the AWS and Student Personnel Committee had voted to accept Miss Davis as a speaker, said she did not want to go against their decisions.

Confusing reports of the invitation to the UCLA professor to speak began early Tuesday when it was rumored that Mrs. Mills had insisted on Miss Davis' attendance even though the Executive Council — the equivalent of the 'student council' at other institutions — had disapproved the move.

Both Bell and Mrs. Ragan said these reports were inaccurate.

However, it was confirmed that student Wendy Williams, active in the Black Students Union, had met with Mrs. Mills after the AWS invitation.

Miss Davis, an avowed Marxist, is currently teaching under a two-year appointment to the UCLA faculty.

Restating their stand that a Communist Party Member should not be allowed to teach at a tax-supported educational institution, the Board of Regents voted to fire her.

However, Los Angeles Superior Judge Jerry Jacht later ruled that the regents could not legally keep her from teaching nor spend state money to appeal his decision.

However, the Regents have appealed Jacht's ruling and a recall movement against him is now under way.

Will

Angela Davis

be rehired

next year?

By Deborah Ashlin
DR Staff Writer
Will self-admitted Communist Angela Davis be rehired next year?

A high administrative official here says no.
Spokesman for the philosophy department says yes.

According to several regents who attended
February Regents' meeting in San Francisco, Chancellor Charles E. Young indicated them privately during the executive session Miss Davis would not be rehired on the basis of the normal departmental review.

Donald Kalish, philosophy department chairman, however, said he has no reason to believe Miss Davis will not be rehired as a result of departmental recommendations. He dismissed the other reports "absolutely invalid."

Departmental review scheduled to begin on March 14 by the philosophy department will determine the controversial acting assistant professor's status here next year.

Miss Davis was fired last September by the UC Board of Regents for her self-acknowledged membership in Che-Lumumba, an all black collective of the Communist Party of Southern California.

The Regents, following a 30-year anti-communist hiring policy, dismissed Miss Davis from teaching here and subsequently were accused of violating academic freedom.

Explaining that "the department will hold a personnel meeting on the specific subject of Miss Davis and make a recommendation," Kalish added, "this is not unusual, as all assistant professors are under the same standards on a one-year basis . . . It's normal procedure."

According to procedures dictated by University regulations, the department's recommendation will be sent to Dean of Humanities Philip Levine, who must sign the recommendation to make it valid.

The department will "act as if oblivious to any blue ribbon, non-academic committees that exist," Kalish predicted. On the basis of "conduct," Miss Davis will receive a recommendation to be rehired, he said.

A special faculty committee was appointed last month by Chancellor Young to review Miss Davis' performance. The committee is in no way connected with philosophy department's normal review procedures.

The committee's membership and its recommendations will remain confidential, according to committee, Miss Davis said: "Obviously it is not the type of action to take place when a contract is being reviewed . . . It is part of the oppression."

The performance evaluations will include class attendance, appearances at scheduled office hours, permitting opposite points of view in class, allowing students to ask questions, presenting books with opposite opinions and the use of a classroom for reasons other than educational purposes, according to Kalish.
He added that, to his knowledge, Miss Davis' conduct is acceptable and said he has not received any complaints about her.

Kalish said Miss Davis had originally been hired for two years, with the one-year review only as a formality.

Part of the evaluation is based on progress towards a Ph.D., although completion of a dissertation at this point is "irrelevant," Kalish said. He added that "public harassment" makes it unreasonable to expect "excessive achievement," although he believes Miss Davis could have completed her dissertation by now under normal circumstances.

Although reports from high administrative officials indicate the Privilege and Tenure Committee of the Academic Senate, assigned to make a recommendation on Miss Davis to the UC Regents, has completed its work, George Laites, Committee chairman said, "We were enjoined by the court and have technically not done any work."

Third stage

The court order enjoining any dismissal proceedings against

Miss Davis has reached the University's anti-Communist hiring policy unconstitutional was appealed by the Regents on the grounds of a legal technicality, a change of venue request which was initially denied.

The decision, handed down by Superior Court Judge Jerry Pacht, was declared invalid by a three-judge tribunal on the basis that a change of venue should have been allowed.
This was appealed by those who filed the original taxpayers' suit.

Although the decision by the California
Supreme Court was due Feb. 20, a 30-day extension has been given to the court.

In addition to these legal actions concerning Miss Davis, a suit by Donald Gallagher, a lawyer running for Congress, has been filed against the University on the basis that California law does not allow Miss Davis to use University facilities, let alone teach here.

John T. McTernan, Miss Davis' attorney, asked UC General Counsel Thomas Cunningham to challenge Gallagher's suit.

Challenges autonomy

According to McTernan, the suit places the Regents and Miss Davis on the same side, since it challenges the University's autonomy to decide who, and on what basis employees are hired.

Calling the University's power a "precious right," McTernan said, "the Regents are a public corporation created by the California Constitution. They are an independent branch of the government with the power to hire and discipline its employees."

He added that the Gallagher suit is of particular importance to academicians since it challenges the University's academic freedom to judge its faculty on standards relevant to education and by peers.

If "the Regents make no comment concerning the Gallagher case," McTernan said they are "letting the Court decide" whom the University hires.

Cunningham declined to comment on the Davis case, other than to say he has sent reply to McTernan. McTernan's reason for filing a notice requiring that the Regents respond to Gallagher was "to get the Regents into the law suit too."

Red Carpet Rolled Out for Red

The campus of Mt. San Antonio College has been thrown open to Communist Angela Davis to use as a podium. The red carpet was rolled out when a member (not publicly identified) of the sponsoring organization of "Women's Week" activities — the Associated Women's Students — extended an invitation to Miss Davis. An invitation that, after queries were made, finally received administration approval following a meeting of the Administrative Council and telegraphic communication with the college president in Hawaii attending a convention. The administration approval came with the excuse that to reject Miss Davis now would embarrass the students.

We are embarrassed that the administration permitted itself to be caught in a situation of merely ratifying student action when it comes to inviting speakers onto the campus.

In our opinion, this seriously indicates that the administration has been negligent in its management of public facilities that are paid for and maintained at taxpayer expense.

The argument that Miss Davis is to be paid from funds of the sponsoring organization does not erase the fact that public facilities are being used as a podium for a person who has publicly advocated the overthrow of our government.

We do not think it is the responsibility of the public to provide a podium for speakers of this persuasion.

We think those responsible for the administration of our colleges are remiss in their duty to those who support them when they permit the use of the campus to be perverted.

We think someone should be called on the carpet for permitting the red carpet to be rolled out for Miss Davis. There is still time to roll up the carpet — but time is short and such action undoubtedly would run the risk of confrontation with some students.

We say that those who permitted the situation to develop to this point must take the risk.

In front of the eight ballJoe AllenThey seal their own fate

In the aftermath of the trial we find more rioting by the followers of the seven who also claim their leaders did not receive a fair trial. This rioting is merely a further indication to me that the ideological goals of these men is anarchy at best and tyranny at worst.

Hell will fly

We are now told by Natasha Dellinger the daughter of convicted David Dellinger that, "They're going to see hell fly now. They're asking for it and they're going to get it." But let us ask ourselves, just who is going to get it? Natasha Dellinger I presume means the society that convicted her father.

For my answer I like to go back to the 30's and pre-Nazi Germany. Then as now, we saw a radical left bent on destruction and planning to completely change the old system of government for a new one more suitable for their purposes. They pursued with their violent policies and eventually members of the right began to be unhappy with the tactics employed by these liberals.

'Hitler displeased

One of those that was most displeased was a man named Adolf Hitler. Hitler's Nazi party came about as a direct result of the violent actions of the left. The majority of German people became tired of the liberals and their tactics. Hitler showed them he could be much more radical than they could and play their game much more violently than they could, the rest is common knowledge history.

Tire of violence

Someday soon it is possible that the American people may also grow tired of violence in the street, and when they do, they will elect men to the government that will see to it that the people who commit these acts of violence and civil disorder commit them only once.

So no matter what the violent left says they are doing, all they are really doing is pouring gasoline on their own funeral fire.

Lately we have heard much about the trial of the Chicago Seven. The five convicted criminals of that incident and their lawyers claim that they did not receive a fair trial.

I personally feel that they received as fair a trial as any citizen of our country could have received, although I am disturbed by the fact that they did not receive heavier sentences. If there were any problems with their trial, the problems were ones they created by their total disregard for the American Judicial system.

The seven and their lawyers were the ones that decided to make a three ring circus out of their trial, no one else. But instead of pursuing this area further, let us turn to some of the effects of the trial on different segments of American society.

Influence silent majority

I think that the Chicago Seven thought that by their court room antics they would be able to influence many of the so-called silent majority and bring them over to their side. But I feel that their primary effect was to turn more people against them than originally were.

The American Judicial system is one of the most important and fairest segments of our government, without it we would have total anarchy, and fortunately most of the people of America realize this. When the seven and their lawyers tried to turn this system upside down, the majority of thinking Americans saw them for the criminals the court proved five of them to be.

Hoffman unfair?

Some say that Judge Hoffman was totally unfair, but let us remember first that he was not the one that made chaos out of the trial and secondly he did not convict them, a jury made up of their fellow American citizens found them guilty.

Re Baltimore letter, 2/4/70.

Baltimore is continuing to follow closely the current split now existing between the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and the Progressive Labor Party and also the SDS and the Black Panther Party (BPP) with the view in mind of taking advantage of any opportunities to widen the difference existing in these organizations.

However, as the Bureau is aware, [REDACTED] through the cooperation of the Baltimore Office of the FBI, and information furnished by [REDACTED] has developed a murder case against several leading Baltimore BPP members concerning a murder committed at BPP Headquarters in Baltimore. It is expected that this case will have an adverse effect on the BPP and its leadership as it will show their true nature.

In view of the above, Baltimore is not recommending any additional counter-intelligence measures at this time.
